

ARINE SINKS JUGE P. AND O. LINER

Loss of Life Probable as Only Four
Could Be Lowered—U. S. Consul
Neely, of Aden, One of the Passen-—German Embassy Says Steamer
as Armed.

Jan. 1.—The big Peninsular and Oriental liner Persia was torpedoed in the Mediterranean Sea on Thursday afternoon with tremendous loss by a submarine the name of which is unknown. The first class passengers were Robert N. McNeely, U. S. consul in Aden, Arabia, and John Walter, Edward D. Montague of Beaulieu. There were ninety women, 31 children and a number of babies on board.

The ship sank so rapidly that the four boats could be lowered only when the torpedo was launched which sent her to the bottom. It is possible that the destruction of Persia may open the whole controversy between the German Empire and the United States.

Persia was one of the finest boats of the service of the Peninsular and Oriental line, one of the biggest most important steamships plying between the British Isles and Orient. She was on her way to Aden by way of the Suez Canal when a submarine delivered its deadly attack.

Her details were received but there were enough to convince many that the attack was made with warning by either a German or Austrian submarine. Five weeks the Mediterranean on Egyptian coast has been infested with submarines looking for ships to attack. The admiral's statement saying that the ship did not carry any war material.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Like a bolt of lightning, the big British Peninsular and Oriental liner Persia, which was sunk off the coast of Arabia, Egypt, with the practical loss of her passengers and crew, has been accepted by the United States passenger liners should have been accepted by all nations before the right of stoppage and safeguarding of all ships had been accepted by Germany, the submarine outrage caused the concern to the administration.

It felt that the loss of the life of States consular official at Aden created a situation that required the strongest action despite the fact that the identity of the submarine had not yet been established. The big steamship had tried to get to Aden, therefore, her torpedoing would be excusable under international law, or that she tried to go to the German embassy, was said that no information was available.

The matter was available, information there indicated that the U. S. liners are all armed, that is so, their status would be of an auxiliary cruiser and peaceable liner. The State Department did not receive this information today, but all of it was received in the department yesterday. He refused to discuss it, but communicated to Mr. Wilson the information.

The suggestion that came from German sources that so far as the sinking of the Persia was concerned, no action would yet be taken, found no responsive echo in official circles. There has been no information filed with the state department which would bear out the theory that the liners of this fleet are armed. And whether this would be the status of the case if so, was said, would entirely depend on circumstances. Some months ago a German steamer which put in at Newport News had there unloaded a gun, but no official action was taken as to the right of liner to carry arms for war.

INTERNATIONAL COURT ADVOCATED

Action of Kingston Chamber of Commerce on Report of its Legislative Committee on Referenda From U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Recently the U. S. Chamber of Commerce submitted to our local body two important referenda which, after careful consideration by the efficient members of the Committee on Legislation, Arthur C. Connolly and Andrew J. Cook, were favorably acted upon by the directors, in accordance with the recommendations of the committee.

The first of these, Referendum No. 10, deals with the second report of the special committee on the Department of Commerce concerning the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the consular service, and consists of a concise statement of the conditions of our consular service, the needs of its extension and expansion, together with arguments against the same.

Some time ago a referendum providing for the extension of the consular service was submitted to the commercial organizations of the country. It was unanimously carried and was later substantially adopted by congress. It is now proposed to extend this service in several directions and by appointment of additional attaches and special trade commissioners, enable our manufacturers to derive greater benefits from the increased trade openings which are bound to follow the turmoil and war in the European world. The committee recommended and the directors took favorable action upon this entire proposition, involving eight distinct questions.

With regard to Referendum No. 11, which has to do with the report of the special committee (U. S. Chamber of Commerce) on economic results of the war and American business, the local committee states: "In this most extraordinary time in the affairs of the nation and history of the human race, the consensus of opinion, among the great men in the commercial, economic and industrial affairs of the country, seems to be that the great world's war now raging in Europe and Asia might have been avoided if an international tribunal, with the power to enforce its decrees, had existed to which belligerents might have submitted their differences. It is to prevent the recurrence of the conditions which now exist that we approve of recommendations No. 1, 2, 3 and 6."

These recommendations—1, action to secure conferences among neutral countries, on the initiative of the United States, to establish rules giving protection to life and property upon the high seas; 2, also that the United States take the initiative in establishing an international court for the decision of questions arising between nations which can be resolved upon the application of established rules or upon a determination of facts; 3, that the United States take the initiative in joining with other nations in establishing a council of conciliation for the consideration of questions arising between nations which do not depend upon established rules or upon facts which can be determined by an international court; and 6, that the United States take the initiative in establishing the principle of frequent international conferences for the progressive amendment of international law.

While believing that some definite means should be provided by the nations of the world to enforce the decrees of such an international tribunal or council of conciliation, the committee felt that the means suggested in questions four and five of the referendum (concerted economic pressure or military force) do not provide the best method to accomplish the desired result and therefore advised against a favorable vote on these two questions.

A vote of thanks was extended to the committee for their excellent report.

PERSIA SUNK BY SUBMARINE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 1.—Many lives were lost when the Peninsular and Oriental liner Persia was sunk, presumably by a German submarine. The liner was sent to the bottom Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Only four of the liner's boats were launched.

The steamer carried a big passenger list, a majority of whom were lost, as well as many of the crew. The officials of the Peninsular and Oriental liner issued the following statement today.

"The last heard of the Persia was on Tuesday. She carried a large number of passengers and also had a large crew."

The Persia was a steel screw steamer of 7,974 tons. She was built in 1900 and sailed from London to Bombay.

It is believed that the Persia carried about 300 passengers. They boarded the steamer in Tilbury, Margate and Gibraltar.

MARKSMAN AIDS
WORK OF FIREMEN

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 1.—Standing high on a ladder while the crowd cheered his efforts, William M. Ford, crack marksman of the DuPont Gun Club, today shattered the windows of his burning furniture store to enable firemen to throw water on the flames roaring within.

As each glass broke, streams of water were sent through the shattered panes.

When the fire was discovered early today it had gained such headway that it was impossible to open the place. The Ford-Massey Furniture Co. and the Feeney furniture store adjoining were destroyed with a loss of $100,000 but after five hours fighting the firemen subdued the blaze which at first threatened to destroy the entire business section.

Bible School Election.

The Bible school of the Church of the Comforter held the annual election of officers last Thursday evening at the close of the prayer service and the following officers were elected: Superintendent, T. H. Carey; assistant superintendent, Rev. W. F. Stowe; secretary, George Elmdorf; treasurer, James R. Wood; librarian, Miss Sadie Brink; assistant librarian, Miss Lois Van Gasse; pianist, Miss May Wood; chorister, Mrs. W. S. Wood; Superintendent of Primary Department, Miss Augusta Wood; Superintendent of Cradle Roll Department, Mrs. W. F. Stowe; Superintendent of Home Department, Mrs. George Shufeldt; assistant superintendent of Home Department, Mrs. W. S. Wood. This year has been one of steady progress both in increase of membership and money raised.

LYKE'S HORSE HAD A "SPELL"

But two cases were brought to the attention of Recorder Lang this morning, one being the case of a horse with a "brain storm" and the other two young lads who got into a fight at the lace mills, due having two teeth knocked loose. The driver of the "brain storm" horse was found guilty of a violation of the traffic ordinance while the fight case was adjourned at the request of the participants until Monday morning.

The "hoss case" was that of Theodore Lyke of the Sawmill road who was arrested a few days ago by Policeman Shuler for driving his horse on the wrong side of the street and the hearing adjourned until this morning. Policeman Shuler was the first witness and told of what occurred.

He said that Mr. Lyke turned into Crown street from North Front street on the wrong side nearly knocking the officer down.

Mr. Lyke's explanation was that the horse had been in the barn for a few days and was subject to "spells." While endeavoring to conquer the horse while under a "spell" he said he might have accidentally gotten over on the wrong side of the street. Mr. Lyke's employer was also present in the court room to testify to the horse having "spells" and from the testimony brought out at the trial it was evident that this particular horse was affected with the disease known as a "brain storm" and which was first made famous when Harry Thaw was tried.

After hearing both sides Recorder Lang found Mr. Lyke guilty of violation of the traffic ordinance but suspended sentence and discharged him. The fight between the two boys was staged at the lace mills. As a result Charles Gardner had his opponent, Theodore Loff of No. 66 Emrick street, arrested on a charge of assault in the third degree. From the story as told the recorder at the time Gardner called to see about getting a warrant both he and Theodore were employed at the lace mill. He had gone outside a minute and he claimed that Theodore locked the door on him and when he got in he asked Theodore why he did it and Theodore punched him twice in the face knocking two teeth loose.

Theodore will have a chance to tell his side of the story Monday.

"The Princess Pat" Next Week.

"The Princess Pat," which comes to the Kingston Opera House next Thursday night, is one of the best comic operas Victor Herbert ever composed. It is running in New York now and its continued popularity there is an indication that it is extremely musical and filled with attractive features. The lines by Henry Blossom furnish the plot and a competent company and talented orchestra do the rest. The opera abounds in good songs. "For Better or For Worse," "The Neapolitan Song" and "I Wish I Was an Island in the Ocean of Girls" are unusually good, and the final act contains three unusual numbers in "Two Laughing Irish Eyes," "In a Little World For Two" and "The Shoes of Husband Number One As Worn by Number Two."

WINNISOOK.

Winnisook, Jan. 1.—Elizabeth Satterlee called on Mrs. L. Brackman on Thursday.

Santa Claus visited every one in this place and left a good supply of presents of which all appreciated very much.

Sherman Satterlee of Branch, passed through this place on Wednesday with a load of lumber for the Shandaken chair factory.

Fine sleighing is the order of the day.

Louis Ryan attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, John Wagner, which took place at Claryville on Wednesday.

Mr. VanDemark's team made a trip to Big Indian on Thursday. The husters of this place are engaged in cutting wood.

Miss Pearl Fremmer, Miss Bessie Tuncey of Gloversville, Guy Doan of Syracuse, and Reginald Pepper of Albany, are spending the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Lew Fischer at their home, 80 Downs street.

His Rubber Collar Caught Fire.
Frank Reynolds of Pine Bush had rather an exciting experience one day this week. He was wearing that is called a rubber collar and while shaking the store in his kitchen a spark of fire flew up and lighted on his collar which flashed up in a blaze. He tore it off before he was seriously burned. Mr. Reynolds has made a New Year's resolution that he will no longer wear a rubber collar.

CHRISTMAS AT TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

Christmas has been an unusually happy season at the Tuberculosis Hospital this year, thanks to the generosity and kind-heartedness of the many friends of the hospital and patients. There were eighteen patients to be remembered and on Christmas day the celebration consisted of the lighting of the prettily decorated Christmas tree. The tree was the gift of Joseph Garbarino, and Miss Hamberger and Miss Brown, the superintendent nurse, saw to it that it was made especially attractive. Each patient also received a holly wreath with ribbon, the gift of Mrs. E. N. Snow of Downs street. These wreaths go far toward giving an individual holiday touch to the lives of those at the hospital, as each room and cottage thus has its own bright spot. Among the gifts received on Christmas day were fruit, candy and gifts from the Kirkland guests; oranges and magazines from Mrs. S. R. Deyo; a half box of oranges from Mrs. Wesley Hale; oranges from Mrs. George B. Merritt; cakes, apples, jellies, two dozen cornucopias of candy Christmas, postals and booklets from Mrs. John H. Shultz; jellies, canned fruit and Christmas postals from Mrs. W. C. Shultz; $5 from the G. F. T. C. C. of the Reformed Church of Bloomington; Christmas cards from Olive Parish; six pairs of men's hose and bed socks from Mrs. F. R. Powley; 20 small bags of candy from the children of No. 5 school; box of oranges from Mrs. S. D. Coykendall; a year's subscription to the Ladies' Home Journal from Miss L. Kelder; the Sunday school class of the Fair Street Reformed Church, six Columbia records from Mrs. J. Davis; ice cream for Christmas day from the Kingston Dairy Company; ice cream for the following Sunday from Mrs. W. F. Dedeck. All these kind remembrances kept the patients in a happy frame of mind and last evening the anticipated Christmas entertainment was held at the hospital. The entertainment itself was in charge of the Epworth League young people of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, Mr. Ryder, chairman. Thanks to the combined services of E. Winter's Sons, who furnished the big sleigh, and Frank Winfield of Green street, who took his team, the young people enjoyed a sleigh ride to the hospital, where they were all warmly welcomed. The program for the evening was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Wright; Christmas Hymn, sung by all present; reading, Miss Brown; solo, Miss Lynde; reading, Miss Saults; vocal quartet, the Misses Bell and Van Kleek, Messrs. Ryder and Mitter; Christmas Hymn, sung by all.

The came the distribution of gifts. Mr. Ryder acting as master of ceremonies. Each patient and the attendants received a very prettily decorated Christmas box (the decoration being the work of the young people of the league) containing a grape fruit, orange, banana, nuts and a box of delicious candy, the gift of W. Derrenbacher. Each one received in addition a gift and a nice one, a tiny envelope containing a few pocket piece of money. One gift to all, which seemed to be especially prized, especially by the men, was a year's subscription to the New York Times, and it can readily be seen that this touch with the outside world will be of inestimable value to those so shut in as are the Tuberculosis Hospital patients. The Christmas celebration for 1915 was brought to a close with the personal greeting to those who visited the hospital towards all this good time was a check for $10.05 from the Fair Street Reformed Sunday School, given at the service of "The White Gifts for the King," held on December 26 1915. Among others who contributed money or gifts were the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild of the First Reformed Church; Mrs. S. D. Coykendall, Miss Helena Clearwater, Mrs. Mary K. Hoar, Lowell Club, a friend, Mrs. W. Scott Gillespie, Mrs. James H. Everett, Mrs. John Forsyth, Miss Nettie De La Montagne, Miss Hattie Safford, Miss Katharine Van Keuren. The merchants of the city were also very generous in making the price of the purchases for the gifts of various sorts as reasonable as possible. While the patients were most thankful for all these remembrances, they were also most grateful for the happiness which they afforded to these, their less fortunate brothers and sisters.

New Alms Commissioner.
This morning Mayor Canfield appointed Louis Keller as a member of the alms board in place of Alderman Henry J. Marquardt, resigned.

MARINE SINKS HUGE P. AND O. LINER

Loss of Life Probable as Only Four Boats Could Be Lowered—U. S. Consul
Nesley, of Aden, One of the Passengers—German Embassy Says Steamer Was Armed.

By The Freeman.
Jan. 1.—The big Peninsular and Oriental liner Persia was torpedoed in the Mediterranean Sea on Thursday afternoon with tremendous loss by a submarine the name of which is unknown.

The first class passengers on were Robert N. McNeely, U. S. consul in Aden, Arabia, and John Walter, Edward D. Montague of Beaulieu. There were ninety women, 31 children and a number of babies on board. The ship sank so rapidly that only four boats could be lowered.

Persia was approaching Alexandria when the torpedo was launched, which sent her to the bottom. It is possible that the destruction of Persia may open the whole submarine controversy between the British Empire and the United States.

Persia was one of the finest ships on the service of the Peninsular and Oriental line, one of the biggest and most important steamships plying between the British Isles and Orient. She was on her way to a by way of the Suez Canal when a submarine delivered its deadly attack.

Her details were received but before enough to convince many that the attack was made by a German submarine. A few weeks the Mediterranean of the Egyptian coast has been infested with submarines looking for shipping transports. The admiralty has issued a statement saying that the Persia did not carry any war material.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Like a bolt from a clear sky came the cable today that the big British Pear & Oriental liner Persia, owned by the British Empire, had been sunk off Alexandria, Egypt, with the practical loss of her passengers and crew, as it did on the heels of acceptance of the submarine as a weapon by the United States.

That passenger liners should be sunk before the right of stoppage and safeguarding of all in board had been accepted by the board as well as Germany, the submarine outrage caused the concern to the administration.

It felt that the loss of the life of the States consular official at Alexandria created a situation that required the strongest action despite the fact that the identity of the submarine had not yet been established. The single glimmer of light was that officials said. That was the big steamship had tried to sink, that therefore, her loss would be excusable under international law, or that she tried to sink the German embassy.

As said that no information on the matter was available, it was indicated that the Persia and O. liners are all armed, that is so, their status would be of an auxiliary cruiser and a peaceable liner.

warfare initiated by Germany had commenced. Later Germany made unofficial representations that armed merchantmen could not be held up under the accepted principles of international law. It was made very plain that a shot from a three-inch gun—most of those that have been armed carry 4.6-inch—would sink any submarine afloat. Because of this, and the orders issued by the British admiralty that enemy submarines should be sunk when possible, Germany contended, it was utterly impossible for any submarine commander to hold up an armed liner to exercise the right of warning, stoppage and search. This is a contention upon which this government has not yet passed judgment.

The suggestion was made in official quarters here today that the Persia might have been sunk by a Turkish submarine. A number of the latter have been very active. In addition Germany has transferred to the Turkish flag several of her own under-sea boats which are now flying the Turkish flag.

Until the nationality of the submarine can be established this government can do nothing. But, because of the uncertainty and the fear that after all the promises already made may not have been kept, there was a very general feeling of uneasiness in official circles that has not been paralleled since the anxious hour that followed the sinking of the Lusitania.

The first of these, Referendum No. 10, deals with the second report of the special committee on the Department of Commerce concerning the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the consular service, and consists of a concise statement of the conditions of our consular service, the needs of its extension and expansion, together with arguments against the same.

Some time ago a referendum providing for the extension of the consular service was submitted to the commercial organizations of the country. It was unanimously carried and was later substantially adopted by congress. It is now proposed to extend this service in several directions and by appointment of additional attaches and special "trade commissioners," enable our manufacturers to derive greater benefits from the increased trade opening which are bound to follow the turmoil and war in the European world. The committee recommended and the directors took favorable action upon this entire proposition, involving eight distinct questions.

With regard to Referendum No. 11, which has to do with the report of the special committee (U. S. Chamber of Commerce) on economic results of the war and American business, the local committee states: "In this most extraordinary time in the affairs of the nations and history of the human race, the consensus of opinion, among the great men in the commercial, economic and industrial affairs of the country, seems to be that the great world's war now raging in Europe and Asia might have been avoided if an international tribunal, with the power to enforce its decrees, had existed to which belligerents might have submitted their differences. It is to prevent the recurrence of the conditions which now exist that we approve of recommendations No. 1, 2, 3 and 6."

These recommendations—1, action to secure conferences among neutral countries, on the initiative of the United States, to establish new giving protection to life and property upon the seas; 2, also that the United States take the initiative in establishing an international court for the decision of questions arising between nations which can be resolved upon the application of established rules or upon a determination of facts; 3, that the United States take the initiative in joining with other nations in establishing a council of conciliation for the consideration of questions arising between nations which do not depend upon established rules or upon facts which can be determined by an international court; and 6, that the United States take the initiative in establishing the principle of frequent international conferences for the progressive amendment of international law.

While believing that some definite means should be provided by the nations of the world to enforce the decrees of such an international tribunal or council of conciliation, the committee felt that the means suggested in questions four and five of the referendum (concerned economic pressure or military force) do not provide the best method to accomplish the desired result and therefore advised against a favorable vote on these two questions.

A vote of thanks was extended to the committee for their excellent report.

"The Princess Pat," which comes to the Kingston Opera House next Thursday night, is one of the best comic operas Victor Herbert ever composed. It is running in New York now and its continued popularity there is an indication that it is extremely musical and filled with attractive features. The lines by Henry Blossom furnish the plot and a competent company and talented orchestra do the rest. The opera abounds in good songs. "For Better or For Worse," the "Neapolitan Long Song" and "I Wish I Was an Island in an Ocean of Girls" are unusually good, and the final act contains three unusual numbers in "Two Laughing Irish Eyes," "In a Little World For Two" and "The Shoes of Husband Number One As Worn by Number Two."

Miss Jessie Oniker and Miss Eva Lang of Kingston are spending a few days as the guests of Miss Blanche Simmons at her home in Saugerties.

CHRISTMAS AT TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

Christmas has been an unusually happy season at the Tuberculosis Hospital this year, thanks to the generosity and kind-heartedness of the many friends of the hospital and patients. There were eighteen patients to be remembered and on Christmas day the celebration consisted of the lighting of the prettily decorated Christmas tree. The tree was the gift of Joseph Garbarino, and Miss Hamburger and Miss Brown, the superintendent nurse and assistant superintendent nurse, saw to it that it was made especially attractive. Each patient also received a holly wreath tied with ribbon, the gift of Mrs. E. N. Snow of Downs street. These wreaths go far toward giving an individual holiday touch to the lives of those at the hospital, as each room and cottage thus has its own bright spot. Among the gifts received on Christmas day were fruit, candy and gifts from the Kirkland guests; oranges and magazines from Mrs. S. R. Deyo; a half box of oranges from Mrs. Wesley Hale; oranges from Mrs. George B. Merritt; cakes, apples, jellies, two dozen cornucopias of candy Christmas postals and booklets from Mrs. John H. Shultz; jellies, canned fruit and Christmas postals from Mrs. W. W. Shultz; $5 from the G. F. T. C. C. of the Reformed Church of Bloomington; Christmas cards from Olive Parish; six pairs of men's hose and bed socks from Mrs. F. R. Powley; 20 small bags of candy from the children of No. 5 school; box of oranges from Mrs. S. D. Coykendall; a year's subscription to the Ladies' Home Journal from Miss L. Kelder's Sunday school class; the Fair Street Reformed Church; six Columbia records from Mrs. J. Davis; ice cream for Christmas day from the Kingston Dairy Company; ice cream for the following Sunday from Mrs. W. F. Dederick. All these kind remembrances kept the patients in a happy frame of mind and last evening the anticipated Christmas entertainment was held at the hospital. The entertainment itself was in charge of the Epworth League young people of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, Mr. Ryder, chairman. Thanks to the combined services of E. Winter's Sons, who furnished the big sleigh, and Frank Winfield of Green street, who took his team, the young people enjoyed a sleigh ride to the hospital, where they were all warmly welcomed. The program for the evening was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Wright; Christmas Hymn, sung by all present; reading, Miss Brown; solo, Miss Hyde; reading, Miss Saultaugh; vocal quartet, the Misses Bell and Van Kleeck, Messrs. Ryder and Mitter; Christmas Hymn, sung by all.

Then came the distribution of gifts. Mr. Ryder acting as master of ceremonies. Each patient and the attendants received a very prettily decorated Christmas box (the decoration being the work of the young people of the league) containing a grape fruit, orange, banana, nuts and a box of delicious candy, the gift of W. Derrenbacher. Each one received in addition a gift and a nice one, a fine velvet bag, a nice gift to all, which seemed to be especially prized, especially by the men, was a year's subscription to the New York Times, and it can readily be seen that this touch with the outside world will be of inestimable value to those so shut in as are the Tuberculosis Hospital patients. The Christmas celebration for 1915 was brought to a close with the personal greeting of those who visited the hospital. One highly appreciated contribution towards all this good time was a check for $10.00 from the Fair Street Reformed Sunday School, given at the service of "The White Gifts for the King," held on December 26 1915. Among others who contributed money or gifts were the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild of the First Reformed Church; Mrs. S. T. Coykendall, Miss Helena Clearwater, Mrs. Mary K. Hoar, Lowell Club, a friend, Mrs. W. Scott Gillespie, Mrs. James H. Everett, Mrs. John Forsyth, Miss Nettie De La Montagne, Miss Hattie Safford, Miss Katharine Van Keuren. The merchants of the city were also very generous in making the price of the purchases for the gifts of various sorts as reasonable as possible. While the patients were most thankful for all these remembrances, those who were interested in making this a truly "Merry Christmas" to them all, wish to extend sincere thanks to all who in any way contributed to the good cheer, and only wish that each such contributor might have seen for him or herself the happiness which they afforded to these, their less fortunate brothers and sisters.

New Alms Commissioner.

This morning Mayor Canfield appointed Louis Kellerman a member of the alms board in place of Alderman Henry J. Marquardt, resigned.

ROXBURY MAN SPREAD TYPHOID

The village of Roxbury has been having trouble with typhoid fever, six or seven cases of the disease having developed one after another and, despite the best efforts of the health authorities, it seemed impossible to locate the cause of the spread of the disease. First the water was tested and no traces of bacteria were found. Later it was thought that the disease might be traced to a certain supply of milk and this was barred from the village. Still the disease prevailed. Finally a man employed upon the farm the milk from which had been previously barred chanced to remark, little thinking of its significance, to the health officer, that it seemed strange that wherever he went cases of typhoid soon developed. The health officer needed no sledge hammer blows to dent his mentality and an investigation revealed that the man carried the germs in his body and was a menace to all persons with whom he came in contact. He is under treatment and surveillance and the trouble is thought to be over.

1456.—A Simple Comfortable Dress For Mother's Girl.—Girls' Dress With Tucker Having Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

Striped gingham is here shown with crepe for the tucker. This style is attractive for galatea, poplin, repp, with lawn, cambrie or silk for the guimpe. It is also nice for serge, novelty suiting, cashmere, gabardine, velvet and corduroy. The belt may be omitted. The skirt is straight and plaited and is joined to the dress under the belt. The tucker may be finished with long or short sleeves. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 1 1/2 yard of 27 inch material for an 8 year size for the guimpe, and 4 yards of 24 inch material for the dress.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Winston Gets Contract.

Supervisor J. B. Wyckoff of Roxbury has received official notice that the Public Service Commission has approved the contract of Winston & Company for building the overhead crossing at Hubbell Corners. It is expected that as soon as the weather will permit work will be commenced on the same and it is expected that as soon as work commences the crossing will be opened for public travel. The total estimated cost of work will be about $31,287.50.

Tannersville Y. M. C. A. Burned.

Fire of an unknown origin destroyed the Y. M. C. A. building in Tannersville on Christmas morning, causing a damage of $6,000 which is partly covered by insurance. When the fire was first discovered it appeared to be under the vestibule and front steps of the building and spread rapidly. The building is a total loss. The board of directors have since held a meeting and discussed plans for erecting a new building.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Jan. 1.—The Christmas meeting of the Woman's Club of Ellenville was held at the home of Mrs. B. B. Demarest on Monday evening, December 27. This meeting was what is called "Gentlemen's Night," each member having the privilege of inviting a male escort to attend the gathering. As the greater number afterward attended the Christmas hop which was held at the Wayside Inn on the same evening, they came "attired for the ball," and presented a very striking and attractive appearance with their marvelously beautiful dresses in contrast with the conventional black worn by the men for the occasion. After the business of the meeting was over a very interesting and instructive paper was given by Mrs. W. A. Hoar on Women's Clubs—Their Design and Purpose, and spoke on what had been accomplished by them in various places. After the reading of this paper the evening was given over to social merriment and the enjoying of very fine refreshments, served by our local caterer. Adjournment came next and whole some wended their way homeward, the others went to enjoy the "music and the dance" at the Christmas ball.

ARINE SINKS JUDGE P. AND O. LINER

Loss of Life Probable as Only Four
Could Be Lowered—U. S. Consul
Neeley, of Aden, One of the Passens—German Embassy Says Steamer
as Armed.

Jan. 1.—The big Peninsular liner Persia was torpedoed in the Mediterranean Sea on Thursday afternoon with tremendous loss by a submarine. The number of which is unknown. The first class passengers were Robert N. McNeely, U. S. Consul in Aden, Arabia, and John Walter, Edward D. Montague of Beaulieu. There were ninety women, 31 children and a number of babies on board. The ship sank so rapidly that the four boats could be lowered.

The suggestion was made in official quarters here today that the Persia might have been sunk by a Turkish submarine. A number of the latter have been very active. In addition Germany has transferred to the Turkish flag several of her own under-sea boats which are now flying the Turkish flag.

Until the nationality of the submarine can be established this government can do nothing. But, because of the uncertainty and the fear that after all the promises already made may not have been kept, there was a very general feeling of nervousness in official circles that has not been paralleled since the sinking of the Lusitania.

The service of the Peninsular liner, one of the biggest most important steamships plying between the British Isles and Orient. She was on her way to a by way of the Suez Canal when the submarine delivered its attack.

Her details were received but there were enough to convince many that the attack was made by a German submarine. The Mediterranean coast has been infested with submarines looking for shipping. The admiral's statement saying that the ship did not carry any war mater.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Like a bolt from a clear sky, came the news today that the big British liner Persia, on her way to the United States consular official, Robert N. McNeely, as a passenger, had been sunk off Asia, Egypt, with the practical loss of her passengers and coming as it did on the heels of acceptance of the submarine campaign by the United States.

That passenger liners should sink before the right of stoppage and safeguarding of all life board had been accepted by Germany, the submarine outrage caused the concern to the administration.

It felt that the loss of the life of States consular official at sea created a situation that required the strongest action despite the fact that the identity of the submarine was not yet established.

Officials said that that was the steamship had tried to land, that therefore, her tonnage should be excusable under international law, or that she tried to run the German embassy.

It was said that no information of the matter was available. Information there indicated that O. liners are all armed and that is, their status would not of an auxiliary cruiser and peaceable liner.

Secretary of State Lansing did not of his office today, but all of the received in the department were rushed to him as fast as they arrived. He refused to discuss the situation, but communicated to Mr. Wilson the information.

Other serious situation appeared to have developed. The secret, however, made it very plain that a snap judgment would be made. He directed that orders be sent to the United States representative in Alexandria, Egypt, Arthur Coad to S. P. Tuck, his assistant directly to the department of the information available.

In addition all diplomatic representations have been ordered to get such information as they can gather with dispatch.

The suggestion that came from German sources that so far as the sinking of the Persia was concerned, no responsible echo in official circles. There has been no information filed with the state department which would bear out the theory that the liners of this fleet are armed. And whether this would change the status of the case if so, would entirely depend on circumstances. Some months ago a German steamer which put in Newport News was held there undismounted and sent on a stern gun, but no official report was then made as to the right of German liners to carry arms for defense.

When the war started the State department announced the doctrine that merchantmen had the right to arm themselves for self-defense so long as they were mounted for armament. But this was before the submarine

PROSPERITY

INTERNATIONAL COURT ADVOCATED

Action of Kingston Chamber of Commerce on Report of its Legislative Committee on Referenda From U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Recently the U. S. Chamber of Commerce submitted to our local body two important referenda which, after careful consideration by the efficient members of the Committee on Legislation, Arthur C. Connelly and Andrew J. Cook, were favorably acted upon by the directors, in accordance with the recommendations of the committee.

The first of these, Referendum No. 10, deals with the second report of the special committee on the Department of Commerce concerning the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the consular service and consists of a resolution statement of the conditions of our consular service, the needs of its extension and expansion, together with arguments against the same.

Some time ago a referendum providing for the extension of the consular service was submitted to the commercial organizations of the country. It was unanimously adopted and was later substantially adopted by Congress.

It is now proposed to extend this service in several directions and by appointment of additional attaches and special trade commissioners, enable our manufacturers to derive greater benefits from the increased trade openings which are bound to follow the turmoil and war in the European world. The committee recommended and the directors took favorable action upon this entire proposition, involving eight distinct questions.

With regard to Referendum No. 11, which has to do with the report of the special committee (U. S. Chamber of Commerce) on economic results of the war and American business, the local committee states: "In this most extraordinary time in the affairs of the nations and history of the human race, the consensus of opinion, among the great men in the commercial, economic and industrial affairs of the country, seems to be that the great world's war now raging in Europe and Asia might have been avoided if an international tribunal, with the power to enforce its decrees, had existed to which belligerents might have submitted their differences. It is to prevent the recurrence of the conditions which now exist that we approve of recommendations No. 1, 2, 3 and 6."

These recommendations, 1, action to secure conferences among neutral countries, on the initiative of the United States, to establish rules giving protection to life and property upon the high seas; 2, also that the United States take the initiative in establishing an international court for the decision of questions arising between nations which can be resolved upon the application of established rules or upon a determination of facts; 3, that the United States take the initiative in joining with other nations in establishing a council of conciliation for the consideration of questions arising between nations which do not lend upon established rules or upon facts which can be determined by an international court; and 6, that the United States take the initiative in establishing the principle of frequent international conferences for the progressive amendment of international law.

While believing that some definite means should be provided by the nations of the world to enforce the decrees of such an international tribunal or council of conciliation, the committee felt that the means suggested in questions four and five of the referendum (concerted economic pressure or military force) do not provide the best method to accomplish the desired result and therefore advised against a favorable vote on these two questions.

A vote of thanks was extended to the committee for their excellent report.

PERSIA SUNK BY SUBMARINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 1.—Many lives were lost when the Peninsular and Oriental liner Persia was sunk, presumably by a German submarine. The liner was sent to the bottom Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Only four of the liner's boats were launched.

The steamer carried a big passenger list, a majority of whom were lost, as well as many of the crew. The officials of the Peninsular and Oriental liner issued the following statement today:

"The last heard of the Persia was on Tuesday. She carried a large number of passengers and also had a large crew."

The Persia was a steel screw steamer of 7,974 tons. She was built in 1900 and sailed from London to Bombay.

It is believed that the Persia carried about 300 passengers. They boarded the steamer in Marseilles, and sailed for Gibraltar.

MARKSMAN AIDS WORK OF FIREMEN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 1.—Standing high on a ladder while the crowd cheered his efforts, William M. Ford, crack marksman of the DuPont Gun Club, today shattered the windows of his burning furniture store to enable firemen to throw water on the flames roaring within.

As each glass broke, streams of water were sent through the shattered panes.

When the fire was discovered early today it had gained such headway that it was impossible to open the place. The Ford-Massey Furniture Co. and the Feeney furniture store adjoining were destroyed with a loss of $100,000 but after five hours fighting the firemen subdued the blaze which at first threatened to destroy the entire business section.

The Bible school of the Church of the Comforter held the annual election of officers last Thursday evening at the close of the prayer service and the following officers were elected: Superintendent, T. H. Carey; assistant superintendent, Rev. W. F. Stowe; secretary, George Hudler; assistant secretary, Frank Elmendorf; treasurer, James R. Wood; librarian, Miss Sadie Brink; assistant librarian, Miss Lois Van Gansbeek; pianist, Miss May Wood; chorister, Mrs. W. S. Wood; Superintendent of Primary Department, Miss Augusta Wood; Superintendent of Cradle Roll Department, Mrs. W. F. Stowe; Superintendent of Home Department, Mrs. George Shufeldt; assistant superintendent of Home Department, Mrs. W. S. Wood. This year has been one of steady progress both in increase of membership and money raised.

LYKE'S HORSE HAD A "SPELL"

By Telegram to The Freeman.

But two cases were brought to the attention of Recorder Lang this morning, one being the case of a horse with a "brain storm" and the other two young lads who got into a fight at the lace mills, one having two teeth knocked loose. The driver of the "brain storm" horse was found guilty of a violation of the traffic ordinance while the fight case was adjourned at the request of the participants until Monday morning.

The "hoss case" was that of Theodore Lyke of the Sawkill road who was arrested a few days ago by Policeman Shader for driving his horse on the wrong side of the street and the hearing adjourned until this morning. Policeman Shader was the first witness and told of what occurred. He said that Mr. Lyke turned into Crown street from North Street on the wrong side nearly knocking the officer down.

Mr. Lyke's explanation was that the horse had been in the barn for a few days and was subject to "spells." While endeavoring to conquer the horse while under a "spell" he said he might have accidentally gotten over on the wrong side of the street. Mr. Lyke's employer was also present in the court room to testify to the horse having "spells" and from the testimony brought out at the trial it was evident that this particular horse was affected with the disease known as a "brain storm" and which was first made famous when Harry Thaw was tried.

After hearing both sides Recorder Lang found Mr. Lyke guilty of violation of the traffic ordinance but suspended sentence and discharged him. The fight between the two boys was staged at the lace mills. As a result Charles Gardner had his opponent, Theodore Loft of No. 66 Emrick street, arrested on a charge of assault in the third degree. From the story as told the recorder at the time Gardner called to see about getting a warrant both he and Theodore were employed at the lace mill. He had gone outside a minute and he claimed that Theodore locked the door on him and when he got in he asked Theodore why he did it and Theodore punched him twice in the face knocking two teeth loose.

Theodore will have a chance to tell his side of the story Monday.

"The Princess Pat" Next Week. "The Princess Pat," which comes to the Kingston Opera House next Thursday night, is one of the best comic operas Victor Herbert ever composed. It is running in New York now and its continued popularity there is an indication that it is extremely musical and filled with attractive features. The lines by Henry Blossom furnish the plot and a competent company and talented orchestra do the rest. The opera abounds in good songs. "For Better or For Worse," "The Neapolitan Song" and "I Wish I Was an Island in an Ocean of Girls" are unusually good, and the final act contains three unusual numbers in "Two Laughing Irish Eyes," "In a Little World for Two" and "The Shoes of Husband Number One As Worn by Number Two."

MAYOR APPOINTS NEW CITY OFFICIALS

Board of Public Works Composed of John R. Tammany, David Burgevin, Ward B. Everett and Addison E. Dederick—Other Officers Reappointed With Exception of City Engineer.

Mayor Canfield announced the following appointments at the common council at noon today.

Board of Public Works.
John R. Tammany for the term of four years.

David Burgevin for the term of three years.

Ward B. Everett for the term of two years.

Addison E. Dederick for the term of one year.

Other Officials.
The other city officials were reappointed, with the exception of city engineer, as follows:

City Clerk, John T. Cummings.

Corporation Counsel, William D. Brinimer.

City Treasurer, Fred H. Doremus.

Assessor, Morris Block.

City Engineer, Edward B. Codwise.

Collector of Unpaid Taxes, Floyd Weiss.

Janitor of City Hall, Richard Dawe.

Sealer of Weights and Measures, M. Holmes Canfield.

G. Wallace Codwise who has been city engineer for the past two years, now holds a position with the state engineer.

Alderman Brown, who is confined to his bed with an attack of grip, was the only absentee. Alderman-at-Large Crane presided and on motion of Alderman Schick the rules of 1915 were adopted.

Aldermen Schick and Fischer were appointed a committee to escort Mayor Canfield to the platform and the mayor read his annual message, which is printed in full on another page of The Freeman today.

Official Papers Designated.

Alderman Smith offered a resolution that The Freeman and the Leader be designated as the official newspapers to which Alderman Leverich offered an amendment that the Express be substituted for the Leader and on the vote on the amendment five voted in favor, Aldermen McKittick, Leverich, Parish, Fischer and Kullman, while Aldermen Smith, Schick, Marquardt, Shults, Connelly, Hull and Purvis voted in the negative and the amendment was lost. The original resolution was then put to a vote and unanimously carried.

Kellar Elected Page.

John Kellar was re-elected page of the common council, there being no other candidates. His name was placed before the board by Alderman Connelly.

On motion of Alderman Schick the council then adjourned. The next meeting of the year will be held on Friday evening.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Miss Lillian Lang left town this morning to visit friends in Newburgh and Beacon.

Walter Bausden, clerk at the Rondout National Bank, is visiting his brother, Sherman in New York city.

Frederick S. Benedict of New York city is spending the week-end with his sister, Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker of West Chestnut street.

CHRISTMAS AT TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

Christmas has been an unusually happy season at the Tuberculosis Hospital this year, thanks to the generosity and kind-heartedness of the many friends of the hospital and patients. There were eighteen patients to be remembered and on Christmas day the celebration consisted of the lighting of the prettily decorated Christmas tree. The tree was the gift of Joseph Garbarino, and Miss Hamburger and Miss Brown, the superintendent nurse and assistant superintendent nurse, saw to it that it was made especially attractive. Each patient also received a holly wreath tied with ribbon, the gift of Mrs. E. N. Snow of Downs street. These wreaths go far toward giving an individual holiday touch to the lives of those at the hospital, as each room and cottage thus has its own bright spot. Among the gifts received on Christmas day were fruit, candy, oranges and apples from S. R. Deyo; a half box of oranges from Mrs. Wesley Hale; oranges from Mrs. George B. Merritt; cakes, apples, jellies, two dozen cornucopias of candy Christmas postals and booklets from Mrs. John H. Shultz; jellies, canned fruit and Christmas postals from Mrs. W. W. Shultz; $5 from the G. F. T. C. C. of the Reformed Church of Bloomingington; Christmas cards from Olive Parish; six pairs of men's hose and bed socks from Mrs. F. R. Powley; 20 small bags of candy from the children of No. 8 school; box of oranges from Mrs. S. D. Coykendall; a year's subscription to the Leader's Home Journal from Miss L. Kelder's Sunday school; class gifts of the Fair Street Reformed Church; six Christmas cards from Mrs. J. Davis; and a box of candy from the Kingston Dairy Company; ice cream for the following Sunday from Mrs. W. F. Dederick. All these kind remembrances kept the patients in a happy frame of mind and last evening the anticipated Christmas entertainment was held at the hospital. The entertainment itself was in charge of the Epworth League young people of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. Mr. Ryder, chairman. Thanks to the combined services of E. Winter's Sons, who furnished the big sleigh, and Frank Winfield of Green street, who took his team, the young people enjoyed a sleigh ride to the hospital, where they were all warmly welcomed. The program for the evening was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Wright; Christmas Hymn, sung by all present; reading, Miss Brown; solo, Miss Hyde; reading, Miss Saulpaugh; vocal quartet, the Misses Bell and Van Kleek; Messrs. Ryder and Mitter; Christmas Hymn, sung by all.

Then came the distribution of gifts. Mr. Ryder acting as master of ceremonies. Each patient and the attendants received a very prettily decorated Christmas box (the decoration being the work of the young people of the league) containing a grape fruit, orange, banana, nuts and a box of delicious candy, the gift of W. Derrenbacher. Each one received in addition a gift and a nice one, a tiny envelope containing a wee pocket piece of money. One gift to all, which seemed to be especially prized, especially by the men, was a year's subscription to the New York Times, and it can readily be seen that this touch with the outside world will be of inestimable value to those so shut in as are the Tuberculosis Hospital patients. The Christmas celebration for 1915 was brought to a close with the personal greeting of those who visited the hospital. One highly appreciated contribution towards all this good time was a check for $10.05 from the Fair Street Reformed Sunday School, given at the service of "The White Gifts for the King," held on December 26, 1915. Among others who contributed money or gifts were the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild of the First Reformed Church; Mrs. S. D. Coykendall, Miss Helena Clearwater, Mrs. Mary K. Hoar, Lowell Club, a friend, Mrs. W. Scott Gillespie, Mrs. James H. Everett, Mrs. John Forsyth, Miss Nettie De La Montagne, Miss Hattie Safford, Miss Katharine Van Keuren. The merchants of the city were also very generous in making the price of the purchases for the gifts of various sorts as reasonable as possible. While the patients were most thankful for all these remembrances, those who were interested in making this a truly "Merry Christmas" to them all, wish to extend sincere thanks to all who in any way contributed to the good cheer, and only wish that each such contributor might have seen for him or herself the happiness which they afforded to these, their less fortunate brothers and sisters.

New Alms Commissioner.

MAYOR CANFIELD'S ANNUAL MESSAGE

Mayor Canfield's annual message to the City Council of the City of Kingston, New York, is as follows:

January 1, 1916
The Honorable the City Council of the City of Kingston, New York
Gentlemen—

Our city charter provides that the mayor shall communicate with you at the time of assuming the duties of his office and at such other times as he may deem expedient. As this is the beginning of a new term, I am continuing the duties of my office rather than assuming them at this time. However, ever since the village of Kingston and Rondout municipally wedded and became a city in 1872, the mayor has communicated with you on the first day of each year and thereby imparted and made known his views on the past, present and prospective future conditions of the city. It is becoming the annual practice under the designation of the "Mayor's Message." It has settled into an established and recognized duty as well as privilege of the mayor. In fact, it has become so usual and general that it has obtained the force of law. In pursuance of this law of custom and to our charter provision, I address this, my third annual message to you.

Bonded Indebtedness.

The bonded indebtedness of the city, of course, the debts that are incurred, and the payment of which has been extended, by the issuance of bonds. All of the present unpaid bonds of the city will mature within twenty years. This is a favorable condition because the city has no bonds due within fifty years into the future. Existing bonded indebtedness of the city is as follows:

Purpose of Issue	Amount	Rate of Interest	When Due
Refund of part of debt	$36,500	4 1/2%	1916-1919
Refund of part of debt	31,500	4 1/2%	1920-1922
Purchase Water Works	504,000	5 1/2%	1916-1926
Completion Water Works	122,000	4	1916-1927
Street Improvement, 1st issue	75,000	4	1916-1922
Street Improvement, 2nd issue	70,000	4 1/2%	1923-1931
Municipal Building	20,000	4 1/2%	1917-1918
High School Site	55,500	4 1/2%	1916-1918
High School Building	20,000	4 1/2%	1918-1923
High School Equipment	30,000	4 1/2%	1926-1929
Washington Ave. Viaduct	24,000	4 1/2%	1917-1923
Total bonded debt	$1,178,500

An analysis of the bonded debt will disclose that the city is in an excellent financial condition in respect thereof. It will be noted that such total indebtedness, the water bonds consist of about fifty-five per cent thereof and the school bonds make up about twenty-five per cent thereof. The water bonds will be paid from earnings of the water department, leaving about forty-five per cent thereof, being the sum of $2,500 to be paid in the form of taxes.

The Past Two Years.

Economy.

I have discussed the question of the bonded debt because it is commonly stated and thought that all figures are dull, inert and lifeless. I have formed the opinion during my two years study of municipalities that bonded debt, principal and interest, figures are active and strong in boosting the tax budgets and tax rates, and sharp in cutting into the taxpayer's pockets. Realizing that bonds are easily issued, but usually paid with difficulty, the present administration during its past two years of city service did not start anything which would require or which occasioned the issuance of bonds. It is easy to travel along the lines of least resistance. In municipal government these lines usually take the form of starting a great amount of public work, thereby making a great exhibition of activity, and then bestowing upon the cost thereof a pair of winged words, with a resolution attached telling it that it shall not alight for so many years, at which time a new mayor will be in office. The administration will not only to the physical result with pride, but at the same time it will not exhibit its two-headed financial result. I realize that it is necessary and wise at times to carry on municipal activities of magnitude that require the issuance of bonds. I recognize the fact, however, that an administration is apt to scrutinize its operations more carefully when it puts the cost thereof in its tax budget, than when it places it in the form of bonds in some extrajurisdictional tax budget of a future administration. The fact that the present administration, in the adjustment and operation of its affairs and resources, steered absolutely clear of everything which would require the issuance of bonds, is sufficient evidence to label it as being careful in its outlay and free from extravagance and waste, which spells and which is, economy.

Honesty.

There has been no suggestion or intimation of dishonesty. No one has charged directly or indirectly, that the present administration has committed or contemplated municipal misfeasance or malfeasance in any of its actions.

Who are fair will admit that the present administration has been characterized by honesty, integrity and indicative of honesty, not include merely the fact of being honest, but also the desire to conform to justice and equity.

Efficiency.

I started my administration two years ago standing on the words, efficiency, economy and honesty. General speaking, it is probably true that efficiency includes within its meaning the other two terms. However, I prefer to keep them separate and distinct as the triangle of municipal success.

I believe that practically what has been said about the honesty and economy of the present administration can be said of its efficiency. I do not mean to state that it has produced ideal results, but that it has assiduously applied itself and perseveringly expended much energy in bringing forth as favorable results as could be expected. Efficiency, in my mind, is the product of addition and multiplication. It is obtained by first, ascertaining the best desired end, and secondly, adding thereto the means to accomplish it, and thirdly, multiplying the result by the necessary expenditure of energy to produce it with effectiveness. In other words it requires one to look at a municipal duty or proposition through municipal eyes, and see it in its true municipal perspective, and then process and then exercise the necessary power for its proper performance and administration. We have not done this with perfect completion or complete perfection. We have, however, given our best, and have stuck to our task with sincerity, earnestness and perseverance.

Charter Amendments.

During the past two years various things have been accomplished for the betterment and increased efficiency of the city and its administrative agents. The city charter was amended. It was not revised in a way that completely satisfied me, but many beneficial changes were made. The city fiscal year has heretofore begun on December first and terminated on November thirtieth. This was changed so that hereafter the fiscal year of the city, excepting the school year, will correspond with the calendar year and begin on January first and end on December thirty-first. One result of this change will be that the budget must be made up and filed in the latter part of December, but it will not be finally passed on and adopted until January. This will eliminate the custom sometimes followed of an administration bequeathing deficiencies to its successor. Another result accomplished by this change is the payment of general taxes in February instead of January. Another result is the requirement that all departments must submit their proposed budgets under oath, thereby practically insuring a true budget. It is true that this has made it necessary to provide sufficient funds to carry the city thirteen months instead of twelve and will increase the tax rate correspondingly, but there are times when we must bravely face such situations.

Under the new charter the school taxes will be payable in August. Hereafter the board of education has become a funded body. As the first in each year and from that time it has borrowed for six months until the tax collecting period. This presented a condition where either funds sufficient for the board for about one year and a half had to be placed in the budget, or a separate school tax collecting period had to be provided. It was thought that the latter would be less burdensome and the better way to meet the present situation and to lessen future tax pressure. As the board has had no funds since about August first except borrowed moneys, the school taxes for the period of August first of last year to August first of this year has been included in the taxes to be collected in February. In August of each year the school taxes for the ensuing year will be collected; and in February, 1917, and each succeeding February no school taxes will be collected. When this change is in operation about two-thirds of the taxes will be payable in February and one-third in August instead of all taxes being payable in January.

Another welcome change, considering the trouble we have had in the past over the election of the president of your honorable body, is the provision for the election of an alderman-at-large, the first one to be elected presiding over you today for the first time. The amendments also include the consolidation of the present City Court and Recorder's Court to take effect two years hence. Another important amendment is the creation of a Board of Public Works which, beginning today, has jurisdiction over the public lighting and the streets, sewers and parks. There are other changes, all tending to place the city upon a higher business plane.

Other Beneficial Accomplishments

The many other things accomplished are too numerous to mention. The cost of public lighting was reduced about twenty-five hundred dollars per year. The fire insurance rates in the city were revised and reduced, which resulted in a decrease in the cost of same of about ten thousand dollars per year and a yearly saving of that amount to the taxpayers. The payments of the High School bonds were made uniform by tables which I carefully prepared and which were adopted by the Board of Education and your Honorable Body.

Street Department.

Figuring from the standpoint that good roads is a necessity as well as an asset to a city, the street department has been exceedingly active and has worked with successful effectiveness. During this past year all olding was done without special assessment. Nearly one hundred streets, totaling nearly thirty miles in length, were added at a cost of about three cents per foot frontage. I doubt if there is a person in the city who would prefer the old unimproved streets of dust and dirt in the air. It also constructed a mile of new sewers during the past two years, and built nearly forty catch basins. During 1914, nearly eight miles of streets were remade and repaved.

In connection with the subject it should be interesting to the taxpayers to study the following table of the principal street construction work done during the past year.

Name of Street	Square	Yards	Cost of Work	Cost Per Yard
Edinboro	2,852	1,309.46	$6.41
O'Neill	2,856	945.66	$0.21
Wall	2,482	1,298.42	0.52
Spring	3,466	386.76	0.22
Montrose Ave. and W. Pierpont	4,800	348.96	0.10
Murray and Chambers	1,153	344.16	0.094
Brown Ave.	2,785	1,158.54	0.49
Harris	3,882	6,310.64	0.81
North Front and Clinton Ave.	800	1,247.11	1.68
John	1,752.6	4,282.42	2.448

It will be observed that the most varied in different streets, depending upon the condition of the street and the method employed. It will be noted, however, that the average cost per square yard was very low, and economy in method must have prevailed. Of course, it cost the city much money each year to be paid for street maintenance and street repair work. An interesting fact for the taxpayers to know and to think about is that there is included in the city's share of the county budget its proportion of the cost of constructing county highways entirely outside of the city, which amounts each year to more than the city expends upon the construction and repaving of roads within the city, and this year amounts to the sum of twenty-six thousand dollars. In other words, the city is compelled to pay each year toward the construction of roads outside of the city more than it expends for the construction of roads within the city. The first street benefit that the city will ever derive from that expenditure will probably be received this coming year when the county road from the city to Old Hurley will be rebuilt. The new county highway will take in Hurley avenue its entire length at the width of sixteen feet which is the required width of state and county highways. This road at such width will be built at general county expense; and of course any additional construction outside of the street front will necessarily be borne by the city. The city is now placed in a position for the first time where it will receive some direct benefit from the payment of its forty per cent share of the cost of construction of county highways.

Other Departments.

Without doubt, double the amount of sanitary work has been accomplished during the past two years than in any other two years. Public health work has never been so prominent and important in the public eye than at the present time. It has taken life and assumed an activity never before attached to it. This is due, amongst other reasons, to drastic changes in the public health laws and regulations and to the better enforcement thereof, and to the publicity given to the subject, and to the education of health officials and the people at large to the fact that success in public health work means winning the preliminary fight in the battle for individual health.

The board of education has never been in so favorable a position as it is at the present time to effectively supervise the proper development and cultivation of the mental, moral and physical of the school children of the city, and this is particularly so in relation to the academic department.

The water board has made necessary and permanent improvements and additions to its filtering plant and to its main line pipes, and has shown a general progressive spirit.

The police department, except as to the personnel, has been practically unchanged since the present police headquarters bears no resemblance to that of two years ago. The space allotted to this department has been utilized to construct five rooms where two rooms previously existed. A modern and up to date signal telegraph system has been installed. New rules and regulations, to give certain much time, thought and consideration, have been adopted. This department is new on an efficiency basis.

The fire department has made wonderful strides for the betterment of the service. It has placed its buildings and fire apparatus in good condition and has purchased a much needed triple auto fire apparatus, and has otherwise improved the fire service rendered to the public.

The city home in first class condition excepting the heating, which will be attended to this coming year, and has purchased additional land, and has met the increased demands made upon it in an efficient manner.

The civil service board and the plumbing board have rendered satisfactory service to the administration and toward the public.

The above mentioned accomplishments are only a part of the results obtained by the administration during the past two years. To generalize, I believe that the municipal service rendered the people of this city has been brought to the issue of success by the present administration, and that it has given better than fair satisfaction, and has fairly fulfilled the reasonable municipal hopes and desires of the citizens of our city.

The Present and the Future.

That which is and that which is to be. That which exists and that which will exist. Conditions of the past have assumed their complete form, and we see them in their full details. The possibilities of the future, however, are not so definitely defined and fixed and we see them only generally. The present and the future are so closely connected and the former is followed so quickly by the latter, that while we are all living in the present, we are thinking, talking, writing and reading into the future. Each succeeding second displaces the future with the present, and the present with the past. In discussing the present and the future, I will, therefore, consider it as one time. More and more citizens are becoming municipal futurists, who anxiously, expectantly and confidently look forward to the future to produce great improvements in municipal service and possibilities.

In analyzing present and possible future conditions of our city, I see many problems. Practically all of these problems have been or will be given the attention of the proper department of the city having the jurisdiction over it. There are two problems, however, that are as important, and to solve them the mayor must take the initiative, but the people of the city must decide the course to pursue. I have referred to both of them heretofore, but they are still with us and in front of us. These problems are the question of eliminating the Broadway West Shore grade crossing and of municipal and private lighting, neither of which can be publicly discussed too often or too much.

Broadway Railroad Crossing.

In my annual message of one year ago, I called attention to the importance of this subject in detail and set forth several methods that might be pursued to obtain the desired result. One method would be to elevate the present Broadway crossing over the railroad tracks. Another method would be to depress Broadway beneath the tracks. Another method would be to depress the railroad tracks below the street level. To elevate the tracks would be out of the question.

I am in favor of the depression of the tracks and keeping Broadway at its present level if it can be accomplished without destroying the switching and railroad advantages enjoyed by factories along the West Shore railroad and without injuring the same advantages to be enjoyed by the many possible factory plots along this railroad.

I herewith present for your attention and the consideration of the people of our city another and different idea in relation to the solution of this problem. All of the real property running from Dederick street to Field Court on the northern side of Broadway situate between Broadway and the Colonial tracks from Dederick street to Thomas street and of similar depth to Field Court, could be purchased or considered. The whole section taken could be made into two plazas or public squares with a business section around each square, and this would be especially so as to the upper square. In so doing one hundred or more feet of land on the outer edge of the property condemned could be utilized for business purposes and should be valuable for such purposes, and more valuable than is property on Broadway, and especially if a business section was formed and developed and centralized there; and the proceeds that would be derived from the sale of this land, should pay a goodly proportion of the cost of the property condemned. The railroad tracks could possibly be depressed about a half dozen feet without any ill results to it or to the factory service, and a wide and ornamental viaduct with a slight grade could be constructed from just below Field Court to just above the post office. This would necessitate the building of a new station and the destruction of the present ancient and unsatisfactory structure. The viaduct would, of course, connect with the station, and the station could be reached from each square from the new streets that would be laid out. Some day in the near future this question is going to stand on our toes and if we don't discuss and consider it in advance it will remain there and we will wonder and will suffer for years to come, and we will begrudge its present location as a blight of this portion of the city.

The Lighting Question.

In December, 1912, a new contract was made involving the public lighting of the city. This contract did not go into effect until October, 1913. The term of the contract is ten years. It provides for the maintaining and operation of four amperes series Magnette lamps, and of incandescent street lights of nominal thirty-two candle power. The word "nominal" means in one sense, "existing in name only." This seems to be practically the meaning that is applied to the word by those who are familiar with public lighting problems when it is employed to express the measure of light to be yielded by street lamps. The name and words fastened to the arc lamps do not assure us anything or guarantee us anything. In other words, the lighting object of the contract, the lighting service to be rendered, is stated and defined in a weak, indefinite and feeble manner. Anything so stated is not stated at all. Such a contract should, without question, provide for a proper and effective way of ascertaining the lighting value and capacity of the lamps in use, and of measuring the actual amount of light yielded and service rendered. The contract absolutely fails in this respect. It provides merely that the chief of police or any officer detailed by him may inspect the indicators maintained on street arc lighting circuits. This is probably the most harmless and innocent provision ever contained in a public lighting contract. It would be just as innocuous if it conferred the same right upon all officials or employees of the city. In fact, there is no real provision as to any test from which the supposed standards are to be ascertained and measured.

Every contract of this class should make provision for an adequate penalty in case of the non-fulfillment of the covenants of the contract. Such penalty should be so many sufficient to compensate the city for any variation from the stated standard of illumination, but should be sufficiently severe and harsh to act as a deterrent, and thereby make it injudicious for the supplying agency to neglect to conform to the contractual standard. No matter how strongly and sharply our sense of analysis is developed, we can find nothing in this contract that spells out a penalty. The contract fails in the third essential of proper liability, forfeiture or penalty.

If this contract should remain with us during its full term, every mayor holding office during that time having the thought of the public in his mind, will view the public lighting situation with a feeling of dissatisfaction. There has been a great amount of inequity of mind in regard to private lighting. I realize that nearly all of us are imprudent and unreasonable in our demands and expectations at times, and especially when they are directed toward public corporations. There have been so many varying sources of complaints that have come to me and to my ears as an official that it is certain that some of the feeling of dissatisfaction must be well founded, although I believe that the service has improved. It is true that we sometimes fear when we have no need for fear. The people are entitled, however, to be free from all doubt or uncertainty as to service they are receiving. If they fear that they do not receive what is due them, they are entitled to have the source of their fear taken or explained away. Their minds should rest with confidence that they receive the service for which they pay. There should not be any uneasiness of mind that they are paying for certain service more than that particular service is worth.

There is only one ultimate solution to, and only one permanent deliverance from, this situation which my mental vision perceives. It is a municipal electric plant. Although we use water more often and to a greater extent than artificial lighting, complaints as to water service are practically non-existent. There is no question that the dissimilarity as to the service of the two utilities and necessities is due to the fact that our water is served by a municipal water department while electric current is not.

The question that will naturally arise in everyone's mind is whether or not a municipal plant or station for Kingston is practicable and feasible. There are over five thousand central electric stations in the United States. In 1902, 77.5 per cent of these were commercial stations operated by individuals, firms or corporations, and 22.5 per cent were stations operated by cities. In 1912 the proportion of commercial stations had decreased to 70.1 per cent, and the proportion of municipal plants had increased to 29.9 per cent of the whole number. In numbers, there were 2,805 commercial stations in 1902, and 2,659 in 1912; and there were 815 municipal stations in 1902 and 1,582 in 1912. The increase in commercial plants during the ten years was 30.4 per cent and of municipal stations 51.7 per cent. The income of the municipal plants in 1902 was over $6,000,000 and in 1912 upwards of $22,000,000, an increase of 255.4 per cent. There was an increase of 249.5 per cent in the total horsepower of the municipal plants.

A favorable example of what a municipal lighting plant will do is furnished by a report of state examiners covering one of these plants from 1909 to 1913 inclusive. The total cost of this plant was about $450,000, of which nearly $100,000 was paid from earnings. The charge for arc lights to the city was reduced from $70 per annum to $35. The minimum rate for private lighting was reduced to $50 per month, and to $25 per month per H. P. for power. Light rates were made $0.80 per K. W. for first 50 K. W., and $0.85 per K. W. for next 1,000 K. W., and $0.93 per K. W. for all over 1050 K. W. The power rates for motors under 10 H. P. capacity were fixed at $0.06 per K. W. for first 200 K. W. and $0.05 per K. W. for next 200 K. W., and $0.03 per K. W. for all over 400 K. W., and for motors over 10 H. P. capacity a charge of $0.03 per K. W. was made for all current consumed. In case of monthly consumption of over 20,000 K. W., the rate was fixed at $0.02 per K. W. Besides, favorable discounts were allowed. The deficit during the first year when it was only partially in operation, was about $4,000, and during each of the next four years there was a surplus running from over $28,000 in 1910 to over $44,000 per year during the next three years.

It must be admitted that this is a very favorable report, and it may be that an analysis of other municipal plants would not disclose conditions attended with such favorable results. This plant, as the report shows, has no extraordinary features as to natural advantages, and all the current is developed by means of feeding coal to boilers with the use of turbines without any natural aid to lessen the cost such as water power. The report can be considered correct as it is the result of an extensive examination made by the board of accounts of that state.

Conclusion.

This message would be incomplete if I failed to express my gratitude for the meritorious service rendered to the city during the past two years by the city officials and assistants. All have rendered service that is thankworthy and deserving of commendation, and I now extend to them this public acknowledgment of the value and appreciation of their work.

I hereto give to them and to you and to all the citizens of our city my kindest greetings of this, the first day of the first month of the year, and may reasonableness and favor come to Kingston and all within it during the present year.

Dated, January 1, 1916.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor.

A Derelict

There Was a Mystery Connected With It.

By DWIGHT NORWOOD

It is many a year since the United States merchant marine was a thing to be proud of. Some persons living in the past, remember the clipper ships of the middle of the last century, with their tall masts and skyscraping sails. Considerate privateers rendered shipping goods on them so dangerous that they all disappeared, their trade passing to English and afterward largely to German ships. The trade then lost has never been recovered. Some say it is because other governments subsidize their ships, others that seamen may be hired cheaper in foreign countries than in America. One thing is certain—the American merchant marine since the war between the states has been little or nothing. Whether the great European war will give any of it back to us remains to be seen.

It was in the fifties that Horace Graham, sixteen years old, ran away from home and shipped on one of the famous "Blackball" line sail ships, the Winfield Scott. Those were days when there was a romance of the sea, when vessels were propelled by sails, when they rode the billows lightly and there was no clanking of machinery in their vitals. That is why youngsters were continually running away from home to go to sea.

Horace Graham made trips to and from China on the same vessel as ordinary seaman for three years, when he was made third mate. One day, on a return voyage, a derelict was sighted. The captain stood on the aft deck examining her, rising and falling with the waves, and when he had made up his mind that there was no living thing to be seen aboard of her he ordered Graham to man a boat, pull to the ship, make an examination and, if there seemed to be no reason to the contrary, to sink her. When eight stalwart sailors were in the boat, which was provided with sufficient powder to blow up the vessel, several augers and some food in case persons starving were found, she was lowered and pulled to the wreck.

On approaching her, Graham, who was at the tiller, had a full view of her stern, on which her name had been painted and from which some of the letters had been washed or worn off. Ordering his men to rest on their oars, he took out pencil and paper and made a record of the letters remaining, giving the proper spaces for those that had been erased, as follows:

M G R E U R O N

Having transferred the letters to paper, the officer gave an order to "give way," and the boat moved forward, passing close under the ship's stern. It was then that Graham noticed, upon a closer view, that an attempt had been made to eliminate the remaining letters, but the attempt had failed. Some one had evidently tried to scrape them off with a sharp instrument, but probably had not sufficient time to complete the work.

On reaching the ship a rope with an iron hook was thrown up, caught on the gunwale, and Graham climbed it, leaving his men in the boat. A terrible scene greeted him. There had been a fight on the decks and in the cabins. Corpses of men, with their weapons in their hands, lay here and there, and all except one wore the clothes of sailors of civilized countries. The one exception was a man in Asiatic costume.

It was plain that the ship had been boarded and captured by pirates. That they had left in a hurry was also evident. An auger had been left in the side of the ship below the water line, indicating that an attempt to sink the vessel had been interrupted. Then, too, all the lifeboats except one had been left in their places. There were blocks for eight boats, all the blocks being filled save one set, and at this point the davits were swinging out, indicating that a boat had been lowered.

There were two cabins astern, one evidently the captain's. In the other women's clothing was found. In that belonging to the captain from a little drawer in a locker Graham took out a daguerrotype—photographs were not at that time common of a girl some eighteen or twenty years old. There was something very attractive in this young and innocent face among such frightful surroundings. Graham put the picture in his pocket not only for the purpose of identifying the ship, but because he wished it for himself.

Before sinking the derelict Graham returned to the Winfield Scott and reported to the captain. Another boat was sent to the derelict to make further examination, but the pirates had taken care to possess themselves of the log and everything else by which the vessel might be identified. Though they had evidently left her in a hurry, they had taken time for such removal. Nothing remained but to make a note of the latitude and longitude in which the derelict was discovered, at that time a favorite region for pirates.

That night before turning in Horace Graham took out his daguerrotype, opened the case and feasted his eyes on the likeness within. It had been nearly a year since he had seen a woman of his own race, and those of Asia were not attractive to him. It seemed to him that this girl was the spirit of innocence risen from the horrors of a massacre. Placing it where he could turn his eyes upon it, he took out his record of the name on the stern of the derelict, or, rather, the remains of it, and began to try to fill in the letters erased. Fortunately the pirates had either neglected this feature or thought the name thescible and had not taken the time or the trouble to eradicate it.

Horace Graham worked all night on filling in the missing letters, now and again looking at the likeness. M. G. R. E. U. R. O. N.

From the position of the letters preserved, he knew he possessed the first and last letters, "M" and "N." Ships were there and are now named for women, and Graham fancied this was a case in point. By trying different letters successively in the first part of the name he finally obtained Margaret. He felt quite confident that the name of the ship was the Margaret.

Though he puzzled long over the last name, he failed to make it out. The next morning as he was mounting the companionway to the deck he heard the lookout shout:

"Lifeboat on starboard quarter!"

Reaching the deck, he saw the captain raising his glass. Graham ran down for his own glass and soon described a ship's boat rising and falling with the waves, but could see nothing in it. Meanwhile the ship had been put off her course to point to the boat. When the Scott came near enough a woman's figure was seen lying in the bottom of the boat, and a man, evidently dead, was leaning over a seat. A boat from the Scott was manned and took the other in tow. When alongside the ship the woman, who was either dead or unconscious, was hoisted on to the vessel.

Almost as soon as Graham saw the face of the woman he recognized it. Though much changed by suffering and hunger, the original of the daguerrotype. A spoonful of broth was given her, and she revived. After taking more she opened her eyes and looked wildly about her. But, seeing that she was on the deck of a vessel, the wild look subsided, and she asked what had happened. After being told she was questioned, but everything except the horror of drifting on the ocean's bosom had passed away from her.

Here was a disappointment to Graham, for as soon as he recognized her as the original of the daguerrotype he believed he would receive an explanation of the mystery of the Margaret. The likeness was shown her, but it failed to excite any memory whatever. Other means were tried, including mention of the Margaret, but without avail. At last all attempts to draw from her information as to what had happened were given up. Unfortunately at that period it was not a universal custom to paint the names of ships on their lifeboats, so that even this information was not forthcoming. The only thing known about the girl was that she spoke the English language with a Yankee accent.

The rescued girl received every attention and very soon was able to go on deck. She tried everything that was suggested to bring about a return of memory, but without avail. There was no other woman aboard, so that she had no companion of her own sex. Graham was so devoted to her that gradually all others gave way to him. The Scott was homeward bound, and as soon as she came into port he was deputed by the captain to examine the shipping records with a view to gaining any information attainable about the derelict.

Armed solely with the record he had taken from the wreck's stern, he ran over the names of American ships till he came to the Margaret, of which there were several. The Margaret Thurston fired his record. This was a great gain. He soon learned that the ship had been named for a favorite niece of the master and that she was aboard the vessel in Chinese waters at the time she was discovered by the Scott. She had not been heard from since leaving Hongkong and was overdue.

The rescued girl was thus known to be Margaret Thurston, a spinster nineteen years of age and an orphan. Graham had fallen in love with her, and since her only protector, her uncle, with whom she had sailed, was supposed to have been murdered, Graham interested himself in securing for her some property to which she was heir. These attentions on the part of the young sailor won her heart, and he had no difficulty in persuading her to marry him.

Several years after this marriage Mrs. Graham's memory returned to her. Little by little she recalled the tragedy of which she was a part. The Margaret Thurston was chased by a Malay pirate, which gained on its victim rapidly. Striking a fog, the Thurston's captain, believing that his vessel would be captured, put his niece in one of the ship's boats with two men and set her adrift. This was as far as Margaret Graham's memory served her. The rest was merely a surmise.

It was supposed that when the fog lifted the Thurston fell a prey to the pirates who boarded her and massacred her crew. Probably a cruiser was discovered, and the pirates left the ship they had captured and made their escape.

One of the men sent with the captain's niece in the lifeboat was accounted for, dead. As to the other, there was nothing to indicate his fate, though it was supposed that in delirium he had jumped overboard.

Graham did not return to the sea, for soon after this last trip the war between the states broke out, which put an end to American shipping. He inherited a little property of his own, which, with that of his wife, enabled him to make a good living ashore.

Greatness and Efficiency.

"A great man's mind is superior to envy," remarked the philosopher.

"Yes," replied the ordinary man, "it is, if he's great enough that he goes after instead of to see someone else walk off."

ROXBURY MAN SPREAD TYPHOID

The village of Roxbury has been having trouble with typhoid fever, six or seven cases of the disease having developed one after another and, despite the best efforts of the health authorities, it seemed impossible to locate the cause of the spread of the disease. First the water was tested and no traces of bacteria were found. Later it was thought that the disease might be traced to a certain supply of milk and this was barred from the village. Still the disease prevailed. Finally a man employed upon the farm the milk from which had been previously barred chanced to remark, little thinking of its significance, to the health officer, that it seemed strange that wherever he went cases of typhoid soon developed. The health officer needed no sledge hammer blows to dent his mentality and an investigation revealed that the man carried the germs in his body and was a menace to all persons with whom he came in contact. He is under treatment and surveillance and the trouble is thought to be over.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1456.—A Simple Comfortable Dress For Mother's Gown.—Girls' Dress With Tuckers Having Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

Striped gingham is here shown with cuffs for the tuckers. This style is attractive for galatea, poplin, rep, with lawn, cambric or silk for the guimpe. It is also nice for serge, novelty suiting, cashmere, gabardine, velvet and corduroy. The belt may be omitted. The skirt is straight and plaited and is joined to the dress under the belt. The tucker may be finished with long or short sleeves. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 1 1/2 yard of 27 inch material for an 8 year size for the guimpe, and 4 yards of 24 inch material for the dress. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Winston Gets Contract.

Supervisor J. B. Wyckoff of Roxbury has received official notice that the Public Service Commission has approved the contract of Winston & Company for building the overhead crossing at Hubbell Corners. It is expected that as soon as the weather will permit work will be commenced on the same and it is expected that as soon as work commences the crossing will be opened for public travel. The total estimated cost of work will be about $31,237.50.

Tanner's V. M. C. A. Burned. Fire of an unknown origin destroyed the V. M. C. A. building in Tanner's on Christmas morning causing a damage of $5,000 which is partly covered by insurance. When the fire was first discovered it appeared to be under the vestibule and front steps of the building and spread rapidly. The building is a total loss. The board of directors have since held a meeting and discussed plans for erecting a new building.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Jan. 1.—The Christmas meeting of the Woman's Club of Ellenville was held at the home of Mrs. B. B. Demarest on Monday evening, December 27. This meeting was what is called "Gentlemen's Night," each member having the privilege of inviting a male escort to attend the gathering. As the greater number afterward attended the Christmas hop which was held at the Wayside Inn on the same evening, they came "attired for the ball," and presented a very striking and attractive appearance with their marvellously beautiful dresses in contrast with the conventional black worn by the men for the occasion. After the business of the meeting was over a very interesting and instructive paper was given by Mrs. W. A. Hoar on Women's Clubs—Their Design and Purpose, and spoke on what had been accomplished by them in various places. After the reading of this paper the evening was given over to social merriment and the enjoying of very fine refreshments, served by our local caterer. Adjournment came next and whole some wended their way homeward, the others went to enjoy the "music and the dance" at the Christmas ball.

The Edgebrook Club, under the auspices of the S. P. C. A., gave a party to the children on Thursday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Holman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ward and son of Brooklyn are spending the holiday week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dutcher at their home on Warren street.

Mrs. L. A. Hornbeck entertained the Thimble Club on Thursday afternoon at her home on Maple avenue.

The pastor of the Reformed Church of this place will preach the New Year sermon on January 2, 1916. Special music has been prepared for the occasion including a contralto solo by Mrs. E. B. Kimb'e.

Editor Ben M. Taylor will lead the Young People's meeting at the Methodist Church on Sunday next, January 2, 1916. This is our New Year's meeting and is also "Go to Church Sunday," and a full attendance is requested.

Our policeman, Isaac Freer, had the misfortune to slip and fall on the ice on Thursday, severely injuring his arm, tearing loose the ligaments at the elbow joint and otherwise injuring it.

Miss Alice Scott of New York, a trained nurse, is spending the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Fred Ver-Nooy, at her home on Market street.

M. E. Osborne left on Monday for Pine Bush, Orange county, where he will take charge of the new drug business recently purchased by him. Mrs. Osborne left on Thursday for her new home in that village. These are two of our most popular young people who were recently married, and while we regret their departure from our town, we wish them success in their new venture.

Mrs. Bridget Maloney has been quite seriously ill since Christmas and does not improve as her friends would like.

"The Christ Child."

In St. James's M. E. Church Sunday evening, January 2, at 7:30 the choir, assisted by Edith Hallett Frank of New York, "The Christ Child," by Hawley, will be given with special solo parts by Mrs. L. H. Morris, Margaret Jagg, William Taylor, Arthur Carr and Albert Rich. Elizabeth Morrill, Alberta Craig, Mrs. Morris; female quartet, Birdella Babcock, Helen Reynolds, Margaret Angle and Janet Teller; male quartet, William Taylor, M. F. Wygant, E. A. Kearney and Clarence Babcock. The program: Soprano solo Edith H. Frank; bass solo, Arthur Carr; chorus, "Arise Shine," bass solo, Albert Rich; trio, "He Shall Feed His Flock," alto solo, Margaret Angle; soprano solo, Edith H. Frank; chorus, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," "My South Doth Magnify the Lord," Edith H. Frank; chorus, "Sing Oh Heavens," congregation. Part II.—"The Plains of Bethlehem," Edith H. KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 1, 1916.

There have been many disastrous years in the world's history, but none of them ever approached the record of 1915. It is true that the great plague of the 14th century destroyed nearly half of the population of Europe, but this calamity was spread over a number of years. On last New Year's Day most of us had the impression that the war would not last another twelve months, but so far from that being the case, other nations have been dragged into the fighting and the end seems farther off than ever. While there were but 8,000,000 soldiers in the field a year ago, the number is now 34,000,000. In spite of the fact that 5,000,000 have been killed during the year, the loss of property is beyond the power of any one to estimate with any degree of accuracy. The moral deterioration of the peoples at war is likewise appalling, since association with professional murdering is bound to have a degrading effect. It is distressing to look forward to another year which promises to be worse than the one just ended.

It is a partial satisfaction to reflect upon the fact that our own country has escaped the general calamity and is now less likely than ever to be dragged into the general trouble. New York, instead of being second, is now the largest city in the world, and is likely to keep that place for ages to come. This country, as in the twinkling of an eye, has come to be a lending instead of a borrowing nation. The misfortunes of others have made us rich. Naturally, this has not made the unfortunates love us very much, but such envy as has been aroused will disappear in the course of time, after a new financial equilibrium has been established. Theologians tell us that it is proper that the saved in heaven rejoice without regard to the tortures of the damned in the other place, which by inference justifies us Americans in exchanging the heartiest wishes for a Happy New Year.

Mayor Canfield's annual message shows that there is nothing to worry about in the financial condition of the City of Kingston. If we refrain from issuing any more bonds, we can be entirely out of debt in twenty years and have a water plant which should bring in a revenue capable of reducing our tax rate to an attractively low figure. The Mayor, however, has a different vision of the future. He wants to abolish the Broadway crossing, incidentally making great improvements in the central part of the city, and also wants the city to go into the electric lighting business. As for the latter proposition, we do not believe that it will ever carry. The figures presented by the Mayor show only a part of the facts. There is another story of failure and disgust, and of town after town thoughtlessly entering the lighting business, only to abandon it after suffering large loss and extreme annoyance. We have laws in this State and a Public Service Commission with large powers, which can be invoked to make our local company do the square thing if it is not already doing it. There is a vast difference between supplying water and electric light. The former is a necessity and there is no substitute for it, while the latter is used by only a part of the people, gas and ordinary lamps being efficient substitutes. No Government, whether national or local, ought to engage in the manufacture of luxuries.

We think that the majority of our citizens are with the Mayor on the advisability of eliminating the West Shore crossing. Whether they would vote to approve his particular plan depends upon what competent engineering talent he can summon to support it. This is a question for experts, and it would be a wise plan, before anything is done, to have the situation thoroughly examined and reported upon by some man of high rank in the engineering profession who has had special experience in such work. As to when the job should be commenced, that is a question which our citizens are as competent as any expert to determine. The inconvenience which all of us suffer to some extent is exasperating. But so also is our tax burden. We have a conservative

Both how numerous we do not think is of the opinion that we do well to put up with this trouble for a while yet, the debt we already have is further reduced. The majority should rule in such matters but there is no perfect method of finding out what the majority wants. A special election would throw some light on that point, but previously we hope to see letters from citizens of all stations or classes published in the newspapers. The Mayor does not exaggerate the importance of this matter, and the more it is discussed the better.

JOINT I. O. O. F. INSTALLATION

The five lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this city will hold a joint installation of officers in the rooms of C. S. Clay Lodge, No. 528, corner of Wall and John streets, on Friday evening, January 4. This will be the second time that a joint installation of the officers of Aretas, Kosciuszko, United German, Kingston and C. S. Clay Lodges has been held, the first one, held last year, having been such a decided success that it was decided to continue the practice. District Deputy Grand Master James H. Lyons of Rosendale will be the installing officer and no effort will be spared to make his visit a notable event and to make all members of the order who attend welcome. Supreme Representative Caleb H. Baumes of Orange county will make an address, and as Brother Baumes is known to be an orator and entertainer of the highest type every Odd Fellow should hear him. The entertainment committee will provide a full supply of refreshments. The lodge will open promptly at 7:30. C. S. Clay, No. 528, has elected the following officers to be installed at that time: Noble grand, Isaac S. Hasbrouck; vice grand, Henry B. Cornelius; recording secretary, E. B. Healy; financial secretary, F. S. Hyatt; treasurer, N. B. Van Etten.

CATSKILL WATER IN MAINS.

10,000,000 Gallons a Day Turned Into the Bronx.

Since 10 o'clock last Monday morning New York city has been receiving a part of its water supply from the new Catskill aqueduct. At that hour the engineer in charge of shaft No. 2, at Kingsbridge road and Jerome avenue, opened the connection and let water into the city mains at the rate of ten million gallons a day. The additional water is being used to relieve the overburdened mains in the Bronx, which draw their supply from the Croton reservoir. None of the Catskill water reaches Manhattan.

Double Game at East Kingston.

Friday night there was a double game of basketball at East Kingston. In the first game the Red Stars were defeated by the home team by a score of 25 to 15. In the second, the Holy Cross five defeated East Kingston by a score of 28 to 18, making the fourth straight victory for the Holy Cross. The game was a fast and hard fought contest, the score being at a close margin until the last ten minutes when the Holy Cross let loose and scored four field goals in quick order, the score at half time was East Kingston, 10; Holy Cross, 9. The teams were as follows: Holy Cross, Neuman and Soper, forwards; Moxham, center; Kiernan and Butler, guards. East Kingston, M. Redden, V. Redden, W. Watzka, forwards; Henneberry, center; John Watzka and Joe Watzka, guards. Frank Watzka referee.

Nearly Perished in Blizzard.

Elias Terwilliger, the sexton of the Shawangunk cemetery, came near perishing in the snow storm of two weeks ago. He had been digging a grave in the cemetery but the funeral was storm stayed and Mr. Terwilliger after waiting until late in the afternoon decided to walk home. He generally took a short cut through the fields and all the night of the storm he wandered in the field trying to find his home. Finally he leaned against a tree and shouted trying to make some one hear. After a long time his cries were heard by his wife and children who lighted a lantern and went out to meet him.

Sneak Thief in Newburgh.

While Mrs. Sarah Welling, a wealthy widow, and her three sisters were at supper in their home, 202 Montgomery street, Newburgh, on Thursday evening a sneak thief entered the house and stole two rings worth $600. The police have no clue to the thief, and the disappearance of the jewels, which were family heirlooms, is a mystery. The missing rings are a solitary diamond ring worth $500 and a diamond amethyst valued at about $100. They were stolen from a bedroom on the second floor of the Welling house.

Mr. Andrews Has Resigned.

Samuel Andrews, who for a number of years has been vice-president and general manager of the Walden Knife Company, has resigned, his resignation taking effect today. His successor will be George Emerson, who had been superintendent of several of the departments in the new factory.

Court of Appeals Meets Monday.

With the largest "order calendar" has ever had the court of appeals will begin work on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The calendar as thus far prepared has 54 cases and will last for possibly the first two weeks of the five weeks' session.

Progressive Ponckhockie Church.

Reports from the Ponckhockie Church show the interest to be increasing. The Sunday school has added over fifty to its membership since Sept. 1st. The attendance at the church entertainment given last week was the largest for years, and the president of the Ladies' Aid Society is very proud to announce that the proceeds of the supper given a short time ago far exceeded their expectations, netting them over $125. The new year certainly opens with bright prospects for this church.

COFFEY OUT FOR MATCH WITH WILLARD.
New York, Jan. 1.—If Jim Coffey, the Irish heavyweight, succeeds in outpointing Frank Moran in their bout in the Madison Square Garden on January 7, he will be nearer to the coveted match with Champion Jess Willard than ever before. Coffey's stock suffered a downward trend when Moran knocked him out in their last meeting some weeks ago, but since then the Irishman has rehabilitated himself to a certain extent by knocking out Gunboat Smith. It is certain that Moran will find Coffey a much more difficult opponent than he did at the last meeting.

With the Willard Fulton match called off, the chances for either Moran or Coffey to get a crack at the championship title in the near future have improved wonderfully.

For Broken China.
For broken china use this cement: Get four ounces of clear gum arabic. Dissolve in six ounces of rain or distilled water. Add six ounces of white cane sugar and three ounces best white starch. Let dissolve. Put the mixture in a jar. Stand in a saucepan of water, and boil until the starch becomes clear. When it begins to cool, add a few drops of essence of cloves. Keep well corked.

Two Birds Had Occupied Nest.
A North Westmoreland (Eng.) farmer in the course of his rounds through his fields found a nest with 26 eggs in it. The large number was not the only marvel, for on examining the eggs he found that 16 of them belonged to a pheasant and the remaining 10 to a partridge. The pheasant, as the stronger bird, was the probable intruder.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the stockholders of the Home-Saver's Co-Operative Savings & Loan Association of the city of Kingston, N. Other Beneficial Accomplishments.
The many other things accomplished are too numerous to mention. The cost of public lighting was reduced about twenty-five hundred dollars per year. The fire insurance rates in the City were revised and reduced, which resulted in a decrease in the cost of same of about ten thousand dollars per year and yearly saving of that amount to the taxpayers. The payments of the High School bonds were made uniform in tables which I carefully prepared and which were adopted by the Board of Education and our Honorable Body.

Figuring from the standpoint that good roads is a necessity as well as an asset to a city, the street department has been exceedingly active and has worked with unusual effectiveness. During this past year all of the work was done with special assignment. Nearly one hundred streets, totaling nearly thirty

Conclusion.

This message would be in plain if I failed to express my attitude for the motivations considered for the city during the two years by the city officials and assistants. All have rendered me that is thankworthy and deserving of commendation, and I would tend to them this public acknowledgment of the value and application of their work.

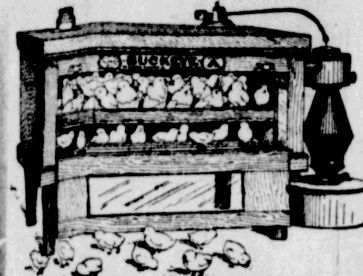

I hereby give to them and to all the citizens of our city kindest greetings of the day of the first month of the year and may reasonable prosperity ever come to Kingston and within it during the present year.

SPRINGTOWN.
Springtown, Jan. 1.—Mr. and
Mrs. Oscar Deyo started for Mt.
Clemens, Michigan, Thursday.

The Misses Neva and Esther Can-field are visiting their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Minard of Newburgh are visiting Mrs. Francis Minard.

Miss Bertha Deyo has been visiting Miss Mary DuBois of Forest
Glen.

The Christmas entertainment held at the Springtown chapel on Thursday evening, was a final success. All the actors carried their parts off to perfection. The chapel was very prettily decorated and everybody enjoyed a very pleasant evening. After the play presents were given to the members of the Sunday school. Oranges and candy were passed out to the rest of the congregation. All the credit is given to the Ladies' Aid Society, who made the evening a success.

Miss Marie Deyo has been suffering from a very bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Deyo and daughter, Gertrude, and Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Broadhead spent Christmas day with James E. Deyo and family.

Arthur Fitch of New Paltz has been visiting his brother, Jesse, the past week.

CHICHESTER.
Chichester, Jan. 1.—Ella Schmeidel and Lee Pomeroy, both residents of this place, were married on Monday by the Rev. Raymond Smith of Allabon.

Alta DuBois, Flossie Pierce and Bessie Bennett, who are attending school in Kingston, spent the Christmas vacation at the homes of their parents in this place.

Harvey Giles spent a few days in Shandaken recently.

Edward Schmeidel visited relatives in New York over New Year's.

Mrs. William Schwarzwelder and two children of New York city have been spending the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O.
Schwarzwelder of this place.

A party of young people from here and from Lansville gave Paul Jansen of Lansville a pleasant surprise party on New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schwarzwelder have been spending several days in New York and Ossining.

EXPOSITION REOPENS.
International Exposition Succeds
the Panama Fair.

My Telegraph to the Freeman.
San Diego, Cal., Jan. 1.—The Panama California International Exposition at San Diego, today becomes the successor in a way of the Panama-California Exposition which has had a successful year's operation. Its operation, continuing until December 31, 1917, will give a two-year exposition.

The decision to continue the San Diego Exposition another year came from an insistent demand from commercial organizations of the southwest, which realized the great benefits accruing to their sections from the exposition of 1915. Then,
San Diego with other southern California cities, raised an operating and guarantee fund, and sent representatives to the San Francisco Exposition to secure the best of the foreign exhibits.

Only the best of the exhibits were accepted and these displayed in a veritable "Garden of the Gods" will make an exposition of high standard in every department.

G. A. Davidson, who as president of the 1915 exposition, piloted it through twelve months of successful operation, has accepted the presidency of the new organization.
Assisting him in the management of its affairs will be a directorate of thirty-one representative men of southern California.

Of the several foreign exhibits
the Canadian will require the most.
This exhibit at San Francisco will be seen in its entirety at San Diego.
It will occupy the whole Commerce and Industries building.

The French exhibit is valued at several million dollars, and comprises, besides interesting and educational displays of a commercial nature, the valuable Luxembourg
Art Collection.

Other countries which have contracted for exhibition space are Russia, Netherlands, Italy, Switzerland, and Spain. The Russian exhibit made at San Francisco will be augmented by a vast amount of material which arrived too late to be unpacked for the San Francisco Exposition. Italy will make an interesting showing of bronzes, marbles and tapestries.

Certain countries bordering on the Pacific have planned an exhibition known as the Pan-Pacific. In this the Hawaiian Islands, New South Wales, New Zealand, British Columbia and many others will be represented. This exhibit will occupy a separate building.

There will be representation
from Central American countries,
Brazil, Argentina, and Guatemala.
Guatemala has agreed to exhibit, and Guatema-la's acceptance of the invitation provides that the famous Miranda
Band will be stationed at the exposition.

An interesting exhibit from the Philippine Islands is expected. Congress has passed a bill directing that the government exhibit shown at the San Francisco Exposition be installed at San Diego.

States and counties exhibiting during 1915 will again be represented in 1916, and there will be a comprehensive display of the resources and possibilities of the great southwest.

Three Claimants for Reward.
Who is entitled to receive the reward for the capture of the slayer of Omar Hotelling, who was killed at Highland Falls, while working as station agent for the West Shore railroad, will probably be decided by the courts. After the crime District Attorney Wilson authorized a reward of $1,000 and at present there are two who claim the reward. Biagio Sacumanno pleaded guilty to being one of several who committed the crime and was the only one convicted. James Gardner, who presented out Sacumanno to a railroad detective, who arrested the man, and George Povelio, who secured Sacuman's confession to the crime,
now claim the reward and the railroad detective who made the arrest will probably also claim the reward.
Just who will receive the $1,000 will have to be decided by the courts.

Inspecting Patent Medicines.
Three hundred inspectors recruited from bureaus of the health department in New York city are stamping 5,000,000 packages and bottles of patent and proprietary medicines in the retail drug stores of the city, distinguishing the stock on hand from that which may be put in after January 1, when the Goldwater registration law becomes effective. The Goldwater measure provides that the ingredients of all patent proprietary medicines be printed on the wrapper or that the health department be furnished with the formula for its files.
The law does not apply to medicines
on hand.

What Think Ye of Christ?
"What Do the Men of Kingston Generally Think of Jesus Christ?"
This question has been asked a number of the representative men of Kingston by the pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian Church. Many courteous replies have been received giving an interesting variety of answers. On Sunday evening the pastor will, without revealing individual authority, present these opinions in the course of his evening sermon on "What Men Think of Jesus Christ."

Fowler's Bail Dismissed.
The $2,500 bail of Everett Fowler of this city, who was indicted in the highway graft, investigation two years ago as one of the alleged "bag men," was dismissed Friday by Supreme Court Justice Weeks of New York city. One count was dismissed some time ago, and Justice Weeks announced he would dismiss the second count upon the presentation of the proper papers next week.

Annual Reception.
The annual reception and entertainment of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Spring Street Gorman Lutheran Church will be given by Mrs.
A. Schmeidel tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the parsonage.
The ladies of the society are cordially invited.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 1, 1916.

There have been many disastrous years in the world's history, but none of them ever approached the record of 1915. It is true that the great plague of the 14th century destroyed nearly half of the population of Europe, but this calamity was spread over a number of years. On last New Year's Day most of us had the impression that the war would not last another twelve months, but so far from that being the case, other nations have been dragged into the fighting and the end seems farther off than ever. While there were but 8,000,000 soldiers in the field a year ago, the number is now 34,000,000, in spite of the fact that 5,000,000 have been killed during the year. The loss of property beyond the power of any one to estimate with any degree of accuracy. The moral deterioration of the peoples at war is likewise appalling, since association with professional murdering is bound to have a degrading effect. It is distressing to look forward to another year which promises to be worse than the one just ended.

It is a partial satisfaction to reflect upon the fact that our own country has escaped the general calamity and is now less likely than ever to be dragged into the general trouble. New York, instead of being second, is now the largest city in the world, and is likely to keep that place for ages to come. This country, as in the twinkling of an eye, has come to be a lending instead of a borrowing nation. The misfortunes of others have made us rich. Naturally, this has not made the unfortunates love us very much, but such envy as has been aroused will disappear in the course of time, after a new financial equilibrium has been established. Theologians tell us that it is proper that the saved in heaven rejoice without regard to the fortunes of the damned in the other place, which by inference justifies us Americans in exchanging the heartiest wishes for a Happy New Year.

Mayor Canfield's annual message shows that there is nothing to worry about in the financial condition of the City of Kingston. If we refrain from issuing any more bonds, we can be entirely out of debt in twenty years and have a water plant which should bring in a revenue capable of reducing our tax rate to an attractively low figure. The Mayor, however, has a different vision of the future. He wants to abolish the Broadway crossing, incidentally making great improvements in the central part of the city, and also wants the city to go into the electric lighting business. As for the latter proposition, we do not believe that it will ever carry. The figures presented by the Mayor show only a part of the facts. There is another story of failure and disgust, and of town after town thoughtlessly entering the lighting business, only to abandon it after suffering large loss and extreme annoyance. We have laws in this State and a Public Service Commission with large powers, which can be invoked to make our local company do the square thing if it is not already doing it. There is a vast difference between supplying water and electric light. The latter is a business and there is no substitute for it, while the latter is used by only a part of the people, and ordinary lamps being efficient substitutes. No Government, whether national or local, ought to engage in the manufacture of luxuries.

We think that the majority of our citizens are with the Mayor on the advisability of eliminating the West Shore crossing. Whether they would vote to approve his particular plan depends upon what competent engineering talent he can summon to support it. This is a question for experts, and it would be a wise plan, before anything is done, to have the situation thoroughly examined and reported upon by some man of high rank in the engineering profession who has had special experience in such work. As to when the job should be commenced, that is a question which our citizens are as competent as any expert to determine. The inconvenience which all of us suffer to some extent is exasperating. But so also is our tax rate. We have a conservative

Both how numerous we do not, such is of the opinion that do well to put up with this, our trouble for a while yet, the debt we already have is further reduced. The majority should rule in such matters but there is no perfect method of finding out what the majority wants. A special election would throw some light on that point, but previously we hope to see letters from citizens of all stations or classes published in the newspaper. The Mayor does not exaggerate the importance of this matter, and the more it is discussed the better.

JOINT I. O. O. F. INSTALLATION

The five lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this city will hold a joint installation of officers in the rooms of C. S. Clay Lodge, No. 525, corner of Wall and John streets, on Friday evening, January 4. This will be the second time that a joint installation of the officers of Aetna, Kosciusko, United German, Kingston and C. S. Clay Lodges has been held, the first one held last year, having been such a decided success that it was decided to continue the practice. District Deputy Grand Master James H. Lyons of Rosendale will be the installing officer and no effort will be spared to make his visit a notable event and to make all members of the order who attend welcome. Supreme Representative Caleb H. Baumes of Orange county will make an address, and as Brother Baumes is known to be an orator and entertainer of the highest type every Odd Fellow should hear him. The entertainment committee will provide a full supply of refreshments. The lodge will open promptly at 7:30 p. m. C. S. Clay, No. 525, has elected the following officers to be installed at that time. Noble grand, Isaac S. Hasbrouck; vice grand, Henry B. Cornelius; recording secretary, E. B. Healy; financial secretary, F. S. Hyatt; treasurer, N. B. Van Etten.

CATSKILL WATER IN MAINS.

10,000,000 Gallons a Day Turned Into the Bronx.

Since 10 o'clock last Monday morning New York city has been receiving a part of its water supply from the new Catskill aqueduct. At that hour the engineer in charge of shaft No. 2, at Kingsbridge road and Jerome avenue, opened the connection and let water into the city mains at the rate of ten million gallons a day. The additional water is being used to relieve the overburdened mains in the Bronx, which draw their supply from the Croton reservoir. None of the Catskill water reaches Manhattan.

Double Game at East Kingston.

Friday night there was a double game of basketball at East Kingston. In the first game the Red Stars were defeated by the home team by a score of 25 to 15. In the second, the Holy Cross five defeated East Kingston by a score of 28 to 18, making the fourth straight victory for the Holy Cross. The game was a fast and hard fought contest, the score being at a close margin until the last ten minutes when the Holy Cross let loose and scored four field goals in quick order. The score at half time was East Kingston, 10; Holy Cross, 8. The teams were as follows: Holy Cross, Newman and Soper, forwards; Maxham, center; Kiernan and Butler, guards; East Kingston, M. Redden, V. Redden, W. Watzka, forwards; Henneberry, center; John Watzka and Joe Watzka, guards. Frank Watzka referee.

Nearly Perished in Blizzard.

Elias Terwilliger, the sexton of the Shawangunk cemetery, came near perishing in the snow storm of two weeks ago. He had been digging a grave in the cemetery but the funeral was storm stayed and Mr. Terwilliger after waiting until late in the afternoon decided to walk home. He generally took a short cut through the fields and all the night of the storm he wandered in the field trying to find his home. Finally he leaned against a tree and shouted trying to make some one hear. After a long time his cries were heard by his wife and children who lighted a lantern and went out to meet him.

Sneak Thief in Newburgh.

Wm. M. Sam's wife, a wealthy widow, and her three sisters were at supper in their home, 202 Montgomery street, Newburgh, on Thursday evening a sneak thief entered the house and stole two rings worth $600. The police have no clue to the thief, and the disappearance of the jewels, which were family heirlooms, is a mystery. The missing rings are a solitaire diamond ring worth $500 and a diamond amethyst valued at about $100. They were stolen from a bedroom on the second floor of the Weiling house.

Mr. Andrews Has Resigned.

Samuel Andrews, who for a number of years has been vice-president and general manager of the Waldeen Knife Company, has resigned. His resignation taking effect today. His successor will be George Emerson, who had been superintendent of several of the departments in the new factory.

Court of Appeals Meets Monday.

With the latest "order calendar" has ever had the court of appeals will begin work on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The calendar as thus far prepared has 54 cases and will last for possibly the first two weeks of the five weeks' session.

Progressive Ponckhockie Church.

Reports from the Ponckhockie Church show the interest to be increasing. The Sunday school has added over fifty to its membership since Sept. 1st. The attendance at the church entertainment given last week was the largest for years, and the president of the Ladies' Aid Society is very proud to announce that the proceeds of the supper given a short time ago far exceeded their expectations, netting them over $125. The new year certainly opens with bright prospects for this church.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

January 1, 1896.—Mount Horeb Chapter presented Charles Reynolds with a handsome Shriners' badge. Monster safe placed in State of New York National Bank. County Treasurer Deyo entered upon new duties with J. Eber Case as deputy.

COFFEY OUT FOR MATCH WITH WILLARD.

New York, Jan. 1.—If Jim Coffey, the Irish heavyweight, succeeds in outpointing Frank Moran in their bout in the Madison Square Garden on January 7, he will be nearer to the coveted fight with Champion Jess Willard than ever before. Coffey's stock suffered a downward trend when Moran knocked him out in their last meeting some weeks ago, but since then the Irishman has rehabilitated himself to a certain extent by knocking out Gunboat Smith. It is certain that Moran will find Coffey a much more difficult opponent than he did at the last meeting.

With the Willard-Palton match called off, the chances for either Moran or Coffey to get a crack at the championship title in the near future have improved wonderfully.

For Broken China.

For broken china use this cement. Get four ounces of clear gum arabic. Dissolve in six ounces of rain or distilled water. Add six ounces of white cane sugar and three ounces best white starch. Let dissolve. Put the mixture in a jar. Stand in a saucepan of water, and boil until the starch becomes clear. When it begins to cool, add a few drops of essence of cloves. Keep well corked.

Two Birds Had Occupied Nest.

A North Westmoreland (Eng.) farmer in the course of his rounds through his fields found a nest with 25 eggs in it. The large number was not the only marvel, for on examining the eggs he found that 15 of them belonged to a pheasant and the remaining 10 to a partridge. The pheasant, as the stronger bird, was the probable intruder.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE HOME-BOYER'S CO-OPERATIVE SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., will be held on Monday evening, January 17, 1916, at 7:30 o'clock at the reading room of the said association, No. 23 Broadway, Kingston, N. One of the World's Dark Spots.

Even today inland New Guinea is one of the world's dark spots. The country is a nightmare of gigantic precipices, huge ravines, great swamps and soaking forests. In 1901 the Danish explorer Peterson, with three companions, dived deep into the heart of this unknown country. They were captured by a tribe of savages, who killed their carriers and made them prisoners. For long they were believed to be dead. Then, to every one's amazement, a letter in Peterson's writing was brought by a native to the coast. It told of his miserable plight, and an expedition was at once sent inland to bring him home.—London Spectator.

Equalization.

Professor Brander Matthews was overheard once talking with Mr. Carnegie.

"I notice, Mr. Carnegie," he said, "that you don't limp."

"And why should I?" asked the philanthropist.

"Well," slowly answered the professor, "maybe they pull them alternately."

BLACK AND WHITE BALL TO BE LARGEST SOCIAL EVENT OF NEW YORK SEASON.

Miss Anne Morgan and Some of the Sketches Which Will Appear on the Program.

New York, Jan. 1.—New York society is looking forward with eagerness to the Black and White Ball to be held on January 11. The proceeds of the ball will be given to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lying-in Hospital. The ball promises to be the largest event of the New York social season and will probably be the most elaborate affair of the year. Many of the debutantes of the season will be seen in the special dresses and the boxes have been taken by the most notable society families in the city.

Miss Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, heads the executive committee arranging the ball.

MRS. LEWIS VERNON HARCOURT NEW VICERINE OF INDIA A COUSIN OF J. P. MORGAN.

London, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Lewis Vernon Harcourt, wife of Lewis Vernon Harcourt, who is about to resign his post as first commissioner of works in the cabinet, to succeed Sir Hardinge as viceroy of India, is an American woman and a cousin of J. P. Morgan.

Before her marriage to Mr. Harcourt in 1899, Mrs. Harcourt was Miss Mary Ethel Burns, eldest daughter of the late Walter H. Burns of New York. Her mother was a sister of the late J. P. Morgan.

Mrs. Harcourt, since her residence in England, has become known as one of the most prominent hostesses in British official life. Her husband occupies a position of close relationship at court.

NEW COUNTY CLERK RIGHT ON THE JOB

County Clerk Christopher K. Loughran assumed the duties of his office today and held open house at the county clerk's office, where he received many friends who called to wish him a happy and successful New Year. He and Deputy County Clerk Walter G. Geraldson familiarized themselves with their new duties and County Clerk Loughran performed his first official act in attending Judge Hasbrouck's special term of the supreme court. Special term was adjourned to chambers, where Judge Hasbrouck heard one case, which was submitted to him by Judge Clearwater and Amos Van Etten. A number of other cases which had been postponed by attorneys until the next special term, which will be held on Saturday, January 15, Judge Hasbrouck spending the day in the examination of cases which have been submitted to him recently.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The engagement of Miss Angelina Fahs of Portchester, N. Y., to Edward Mayne of Glasgow, has been announced. The marriage will take place, Sunday, January 30.

Miss Helena Carpenter gave a luncheon Friday afternoon at her home on Milton at which time she announced her engagement to Al. Drich Staples of Marlborough. Miss Carpenter is a member of the 1911 Highland High School graduating class.

Miss Louise Schoonmaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, who is attending school in New York this winter, was the charming hostess at a dinner party given to some of her young friends in the metropolis, at the Ritz-Carlton on Thursday evening. Following the dinner, the party which was chaperoned by Mrs. Schoonmaker, enjoyed a theatre party attending a performance of "Princess Pat." Robert Hasbrouck, who has been enjoying a furlough from West Point Military Academy, was among the guests.

The annual New Year's eve subscription dance, given at St. Mary's Hall was one of the most enjoyable of the season's social functions.

Palms decorated the stage and surrounded the musicians of Goisla's orchestra which the evening's delightful music. During the evening a buffet luncheon was served. At midnight, favors were distributed, and then the clever and nonsensical noise-making instruments, helped to create a gay hubbub with which to welcome in "1916." The orchestra then played "Auld Lang Syne," which all joined in singing heartily, and as a striking and peculiarly fine closing to the welcome to the New Year, the great American flag at the rear of the stage was waved.

"Star Spangled Banner" as all stood to honor their country and give vent to their loyal Americanism. The patrons of this delightful dance were Judge and Mrs. Betts, Judge and Mrs. Clearwater, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coykendall, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Freer, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fowler, Judge and Mrs. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Howard Osterhoudt, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Higginson, Mr. and Mrs. John Schoonmaker, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Taylor, Judge and Mrs. Amos Van Etten, Judge and Mrs. John G. Van Etten, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Winston and Mr. and Mrs. Ogden F. Winne.

Craft-Smith. Leighton Craft youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craft of Lattinatown, and Miss Carrie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith of Brooklyn were married in that city on Tuesday, Dec. 21. After their honeymoon the young couple will make their home at Lattinatown.

Hornbeck-Kegler. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kegler announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Olga Kegler to Under-Sheriff Scott Hornbeck, this morning at ten o'clock, at the family residence on Pine street. Only the immediate members of the families of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary. The sixtieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Dayton of Lloyd was celebrated on Christmas eve at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Nathan Townsend, at 601 West 180th street, New York city. Four generations of the Dayton family were represented in a gathering of twenty people, whose meeting served the double purpose of a family reunion and a reception to the guests of honor.

A dinner was served by Mrs. Townsend, who formerly conducted a summer hotel in Lloyd, at half past seven o'clock, before and after which a suitable entertainment was enjoyed. Those who sat down to the dinner were Mrs. William Maiden of New York, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton, and Mr. Maiden; Mrs. Eliza B. Seeley of Boston, a daughter, and Mr. Seeley; Mrs. E. Dayton of Yorkers, wife of the late Eldorado Dayton of Marlborough, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren, including Mr. and Mrs. George Smyser of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Booth of New York, Ernest R. Dayton of Yorkers, and others.

Lewis H. Dayton, who has reached the eighty-eighth year of his age, is one of the pioneer residents of Lloyd. Born there, he came into possession of a pretty homestead about a mile south of the village of Lloyd in a section which, years before, one of his ancestors, an early settler from England, opened to civilization. Here he and Mrs. Dayton spent the sixty years of their wedded life, which culminated in Saturday's happy reunion.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon on the arrival of the 2:30 West Shore train. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Retta, daughter of Nicholas and Anna Schermerhorn, died at her home, 49 Cedar street, this morning, aged fifteen years. The funeral will be held from her late home at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning and from St. Joseph's Church at 9 o'clock, where a mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends are invited to attend. The interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

George W. Young, a well-known retired farmer, died suddenly on Thursday at his home near Gardiner. Death was due to an acute attack of heart trouble. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. He had been in apparently good health but about a week ago he had a slight attack of illness from which he soon recovered. He was born at Boonfield, Iowa, 59 years ago, and spent the greater part of his life in the vicinity of Gardiner.

Mrs. Oliver Scott, aged 70 years, a resident of Milton, died at the home her granddaughter, Mrs. Sylvanus Cassels of Marlborough, on Thursday from a complication of diseases. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Emma Jansen and two granddaughters, Mrs. Percy Bunker of Milton and Mrs. Sylvanus Cassels of Marlborough and one grandson, Leonard Jansen of Connecticut. The funeral was held today with interment at Pine Bush on Sunday.

The death of the Rev. Charles W. Alberti, for the past three years pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Highland Falls, occurred in Polytechnic Hospital, New York city, Thursday morning at 12:45 o'clock. Death was caused from pneumonia that set in when Mr. Alberti was convalescing from an operation for appendicitis. Deceased was in his fifty-fifth year and if he had lived he would have completed his third year as pastor at Highland Falls on December 31. About one month ago he entered the hospital. Besides his widow the deceased is survived by one son, Harold, his mother, Mrs. William Alberti, two brothers, William and Lyman and one sister, Evelyn. Mr. Alberti was a graduate of the Drew Theological Seminary in the class of 1892 and before going to Highland Falls he served as pastor in churches in Livingston Manor, Equinunk, Pa., Greenfield, Mountain Lake and Montgomery. The remains will be taken from New York city to Newburgh and funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from St. John's M. E. Church at 2 o'clock. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Alberti was a brother-in-law of the Rev. Arthur Thompson.

Household Sports.

"The Fun of Cooking" is the title of one of the new books. Probably a companion volume to "The Joy of Sock Darning" and "The Ecstasy of Dish Washing."

MONEY AND THE HOME.

How One Family Solved the Difficult Financial Problem.

In the American Magazine a contributor tells how he and his wife have solved the problem of domestic expenses.

"When my wife and I were first married," he says, "we experienced some difficulty in the handling of my salary. My wife would often want little things and would hesitate to ask me for the money, fearing that I would think them silly. Again, she would need clothes occasionally and would not wish to ask for them, believing that either I could not afford them or would think her extravagant. Often I would see things that I desired, but many times would not buy them because I could not afford to spend a like amount on her."

"So we devised a method of dividing the money. Upon receiving my salary twice a month I pay whatever household bills that are on hand, such as rent, coal, groceries, light, etc. The balance I divide, giving half to my wife and retaining the other half myself. Then we each pay half the monthly incidental expenses of the house, being very exact, even to the purchase of a yeast cake. Personal expenses, such as clothes, car fares, etc., we each pay from our own halves. If we go out for a day's pleasure I pay the bills, and upon our return I figure what I have spent, and my wife pays me her half. Thus each of us has half my salary, each pays half of the household expenses, and each has half of the balance for his own use."

AN ANCIENT ROMANCE.

The Story of Ruth and Boaz and True Human Kindness.

The book of Ruth is the greatest pastoral idyl in literature. It is founded, according to the Christian Herald, on loving kindness, the loving kindness of the Moabites revealed to her family and the loving kindness of Boaz, the wealthy Israelite, to Ruth, his kinswoman. It also contains the germ of that great heartedness which is the center of the gospel of Christian love.

It is a book that opens with tears and famine and ends with the sound of wedding bells. The story turns upon the straightforwardness of Boaz, who showed kindness and manliness to Ruth, a member of a nation that was Israel's foe, and in that kindness founded a new house, the house of Jesse and David, the royal line that begat a greater than David.

Boaz is immortal among Bible heroes for his kindness, his plain, everyday generosity, his sense of protection and care for the lonely, unprotected Moabite girl, his dead kinsman's wife, who in her poverty gleaned in his harvest field after the reapers. Boaz gave orders to his reapers that they should allow her to glean even among the sheaves of barley and by his large heartedness gained a wife and, more than that, made a place for himself in that immortal company which is renowned for naught but for being kind.

Saved by Her Voice.

When traveling to Paris with some other ladies on one occasion Mme. Grisel had a thrilling adventure. At a small wayside station a man entered the carriage, and it soon became evident from his threatening gestures and eccentric behavior that he was a dangerous lunatic. Though her companions were panic stricken, Mme. Grisel retained complete presence of mind and with the utmost composure began to sing. At once the man became quiet. His whole attention was riveted on that magnificent voice, and he remained the most appreciative of listeners until the train reached the next station, where he was secured. It transpired subsequently that he was a maniac with homicidal tendencies who had escaped from an asylum.

One of the World's Dark Spots.
Even today inland New Guinea is one of the world's dark spots. The country is a nightmare of gigantic swamps, huge ravines, great swamps and soaking forests. In 1901 the Danish explorer Peterson, with three companions, dived deep into the heart of this unknown country. They were captured by a tribe of savages, who killed their carriers and made them prisoners. For long they were believed to be dead. Then, to every one's amazement, a letter in Peterson's writing was brought by a native to the coast. It told of his miserable plight, and an expedition was at once sent inland to bring him home.—London Spectator.

Equalization.

Professor Brandor Matthews was overheard once talking with Mr. Carnegie.
"I notice, Mr. Carnegie," he said, "that you don't limp."
"And why should I?" asked the philanthropist.
"Well," slowly answered the professor, "maybe they pull them alternately."

BLACK AND WHITE BALL TO BE LARGEST SOCIAL EVENT OF NEW YORK SEASON.

Miss Anne Morgan and Some of the Sketches Which Will Appear on the Program.
New York, Jan. 1.—New York society is looking forward with eagerness to the Black and White Ball to be held on January 11. The proceeds of the ball will be given to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lying-In Hospital. The ball promises to be the largest event of the New York social season and will probably be the most elaborate affair of the year. Many of the debutantes of the season will be seen in the special dances and the boxes have been taken by the most notable society families in the city.
Miss Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, heads the executive committee arranging the ball.

MRS. LEWIS VERNON HARCOURT NEW VICERINE OF INDIA A COUSIN OF J. P. MORGAN.

London, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Lewis Vernon Harcourt, wife of Lewis Vernon Harcourt, who is about to resign his post as first commissioner of works in the cabinet, to succeed Rar on Harding as viceroy of India, is an American woman and a cousin of J. P. Morgan.
Before her marriage to Mr. Harcourt in 1899, Mrs. Harcourt was Miss Mary Ethel Burns, eldest daughter of the late Walter H. Burns of New York. Her mother was a sister of the late J. P. Morgan.
Mrs. Harcourt, since her residence in England, has become known as one of the most prominent hostesses in British official life. Her husband occupies a position of close relationship at court.

Locating the Imbecile.
Victor Hugo was a victim to the thirteen superstition. At a house where Hugo had been asked to dine, one of the other guests, after waiting some time, asked the hostess why they were so late sitting down to table. She explained that a guest having failed her she had been compelled to send for another to avoid the party mustering thirteen.
A few minutes later the same guest started talking to Hugo. "Do you know why we are kept waiting?" asked the latter. "Yes," came the reply. "Because some imbecile is afraid to sit down thirteen to dinner." Solemnly and severely the poet rejoined: "Imbecile, c'est moi."
Poison in Young Rattlesnakes.
Observations on live rattlesnakes show that the poison glands become functionally active as soon as the snakes begin to shift for themselves, which must be very soon after birth. Experiments on the young ones of fads after birth, proved the presence of venom in small quantities. Experiments made three months after birth showed that considerable venom is secreted as a pigeon inoculated at this time died in two hours with the usual symptoms of poisoning.

MAN WHO IS DIRECTING AUSTRIAN POLICY REGARDING AMERICAN ANCONA NOTE.
Baron von Burian, Austrian foreign secretary, who is conducting the Ancona correspondence with Secretary of State Lansing, is considered one of the ablest of European diplomats. He conducted the diplomatic correspondence with Italy up to the time of the break between the two powers and the entrance of Italy into the war.

E. WINTER'S SONS
Music Store, Kingston, N. Y.MENKE'S DAILY
SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

Oh, dear, oh, dear, the New Year's here.

The old one's gone away.

The water wagon's loaded up.

The boys,—oh, will they stay?

The journey's long for those who stick

The road is hard and rough.

But those who cling until the end

Find recompense enough.

The sporting menu for 1916 isn't extremely appetizing when you look at it from this first day of the year, angle, but some surprises may come; some dainty, tasty dishes may be served.

It is hardly likely that there will be any international combats in an athletic way this year. The war has halted them, and it may be two or three years after the war ends before any such classics are staged.

The great English polo team which conquered the American champions has been broken up—forever. The British tennis team has been wrecked by death and injuries. There will not be any yacht races.

The Olympic meet, which was to have been the blue ribbon event in this sportive year, has been postponed indefinitely.

The Baseball Outlook.

Touching on the domestic situation, one thing seems certain. This year ought to be a better one for baseball, both from the magnates and spectators viewpoint, than were those of 1914 and 1915.

The merging of the Federal League with those in organized baseball brings under one standard a large collection of ball players. There will be enough real stars to strengthen all the weak spots in the 1915 makeups of the National and American League Clubs.

Such a condition, naturally, will result in a better brand of major league baseball, and, with the war over, the magnates will reap the harvest that comes from increased attendance.

As to Tennis.

There is a promise of stellar battling for tennis honors in 1916. William Johnson, the new Pacific coast phenomenon, will have a mighty task in defending his title against the onslaughts of R. Morris Williams and Maurice McLoughlin and these others who rank among the greatest tennis stars in the world.

and Miss Molla Bjurstedt, the Norwegian wizard, will find that the re-entry of May Sutton Bundy into the tennis sphere will keep her busy in her efforts to retain her championship she won by her dazlingly brilliant playing last summer.

Pugilistic Outlook.

The fight game promise to furnish the unexpected. Some of the kings may lose their crowns.

The off-beaten Freddie Welsh may lose his title as lightweight champion. Of course, Freddie will be careful, as usual. He will not engage in decision bouts unless it is absolutely necessary. But it may happen that he'll strike a "Tartar" in a ten round bout—bump against a youngster who will shoot over a punch that will send Freddie down and out for the count. Oh, yes, Freddie is shifty and he's clever and he's a purely defensive fighter—but that isn't permanent insurance against a knockout wallop.

Kid Williams's bantamweight throne is tottering and it may fall before the end of the year. The month of March marks the fourth anniversary of Johnny Kilbane's uplift to the featherweight crest. Johnny isn't as good as he used to be, but Johnny, like Welsh, is careful in picking his opponents and ducks the decision route.

As for Jess Willard—well, he figures on only one or two battles this year and if his foes are no more formidable than Fred Fulton, the chances are he'll be the champ a year hence.

Golf.

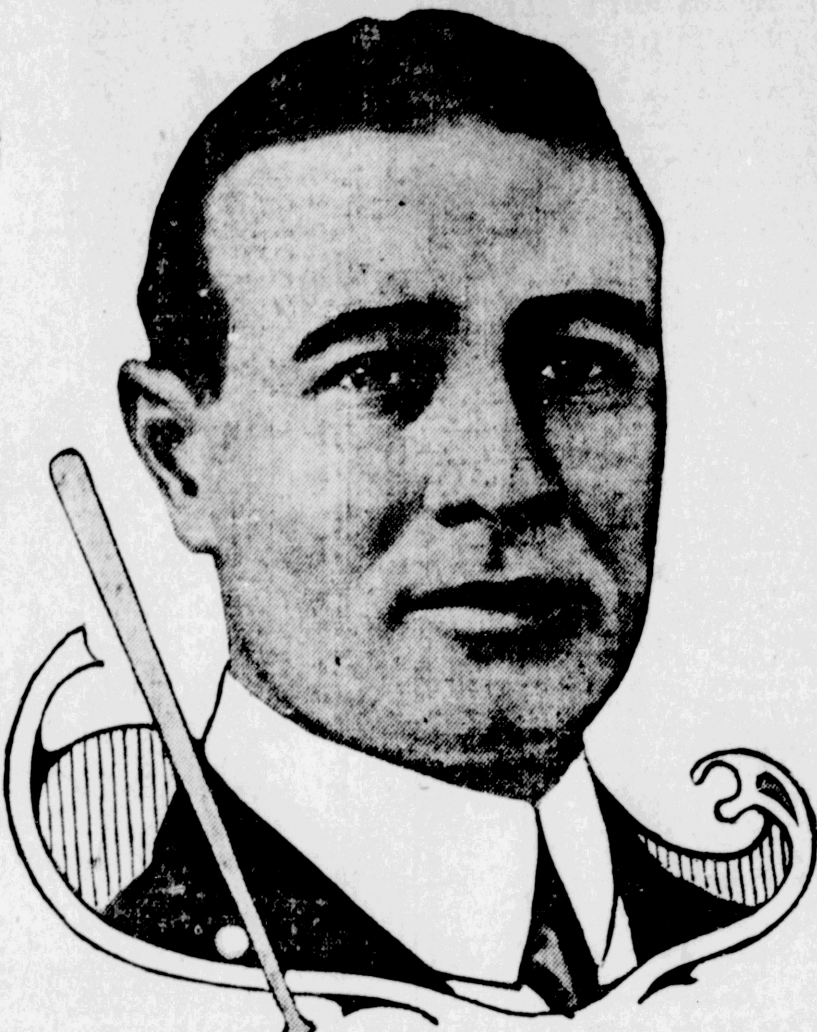

The 1916 season in golf promises much in the way of stellar contests. Each year a newer and more wonderful crop of link stars have been harvested and with the old stars competing with the new in the various competitions, both national and state, some wonderful achievements are in prospect.

Runners and Trotters.

There promises to be a big revival of the turf game during the year. In many states where racing was abolished a few years ago, there is a concerted movement on foot to bring about a revival. In those states where racing is permitted the meets promise to be much classier in 1916 owing to the fact that there have been imported many of the greatest ponies that used to run on the European tracks.

The trotting game has been regaining its lost popularity during the past few years and 1916 is freighted with the promise of even greater success in the grand circuit affairs and also on the little tracks than were the 1914 and 1915 seasons.

FRANK CHANCE BACK IN BASEBALL GAME?

Frank Chance.

Frank Chance may be back in baseball, though not in the major leagues. If Barney Oldfield, the automobile race driver, can turn two tricks. One is to induce Chance to change his mind about retirement. The other is to induce the holders of stock in the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league to sell the stock.

Oldfield is after the stock. He has the money to buy it. His home now is in Los Angeles. He is a baseball fan. Chance and he are close friends. But it still is doubtful that the man who won four pennants with the Chicago Cubs could be induced to come back to a sport that brought such bitter disappointment when he tried to make a winner out of the New York Americans.

BOXERS MUST DEFEND TITLE

American Boxing Association Has Started War on Fighters—Ted Lewis Classed as Welter.

The recently born American Boxing association has started real war on title holders who refuse to give the rising generation a whack at the honors. Acting upon resolutions recently adopted, it has sent notification to Willie Ritchie that he must defend his American lightweight championship by fighting for it within a reasonable time. If he refuses, or ignores the edict, the association will pick the best three or four men in the class and stage a series of battles to give the nation a real title holder.

It is the sense of the promoters that Ritchie, Kid Graves, Mike O'Dowd,

Ted Lewis.

Soldier Bartfield, Packey McFarland, Jack Britton and Ted Lewis be classed as welters. In the case of Ritchie, Britton and Lewis, the promoters voted that these men will have to back up any claims they might make as to their still being lightweights by meeting all comers at the accepted weight in that class.

In the middleweight class the promoters selected Young Ahearn, Mike Gibbons, Jeff Smith, George Chip, Jimmy Clabby and Eddie McGorty.

In the new flyweight division Frankie Izzo, Artie Armstrong and Jimmy Pappas were picked as the three likeliest lads.

Hank Robinson With Feds?

There is a persistent rumor in St. Louis that Hank Robinson has signed to pitch for the Feds next year.

Giving Permanent Help.

Remember that every man at times stumbles and has to be helped up; if he's down you cannot carry him. The only way in which any man can be helped permanently is to help himself.—Theodore Roosevelt.

LITTLE PICK-UPS

Hockey is simply a new name for it. Just as many crooks are nicked as when it was called "shinny on your own side."

Hank Gowdy expects to do the bulk of the backstopping for the Braves next year now that Whaling has been released.

The Kansas City Polo club has been organized, with the idea of popularizing the pony polo sport among citizens in that city.

Lung, a full-blooded Chinaman at inside left on the Columbia university soccer football team, is one of the squad's most expert players.

If there is anything in this "bigger they come, the harder they fall" dope, there'll be an awful crash when Fred Fulton drops. He measures 6 feet 4.

The Courtney rowing No. 2 in the present Cornell first boat is a nephew of Coach Courtney. This year's freshman candidates number 100.

The St. Louis Nationals have signed a one-eyed pitcher as a running mate for Meadows, the four-eyed hurler. That puts the club one eye to the good.

New York Sun headline: "Yale Eleven Will Be Heavy Loser by Graduation." The day of humor on the Sun evidently did not pass with Dana.

Umpire Quigley worked in 20 football games during the season just closed and has now gone to his home in St. Mary's, Kan., for a rest during the winter months.

Harvard university recently manned 20 eight-oared shells with rowing candidates, while 50 or more oarsmen in single and double shells also practiced on the Charles river.

Cassagnol, the best billiard player in France, and Julius Adorjan, the Hungarian expert, may visit this country and participate in matches before the year is over.

Gilmour Dobie, Washington university coach, whose teams were never beaten in eleven years, claims he never will taste defeat as long as he lives. He has quit coaching.

Coach Al Sharpe of Cornell university has a four-year contract to instruct the Ithaca institution athletes in football, baseball and basketball. He has turned out two champion basketball teams in three years.

Coach Walter Christie, the veteran instructor in track athletics at the University of California, has organized classes for instruction in coaching and students' training, at which there is a large attendance.

Coach Jim Rice of Columbia university oarsmen says the recent triumph of his varsity eight over the Yale crew should do much to counteract the growing feeling that English rowing methods are superior to the American theories of rowing.

'Tis Ever Thus.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New Orleans, Jan. 1.—Before 1,000 fans the Zulu Kid of Brooklyn defeated Jack Doyle of New York in fifteen rounds last night.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The bout between Heavyweight Champion Jess Willard and Fred Fulton, which Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee promoter, has been trying to arrange for the Brewery City on February 22, is off. After a conference in which Andrews, Managers Tom Jones and Mike Collins, and the two fighters, Willard and Fulton, were present, the promoter gave up the effort to make the match and departed for home. Fulton demanded $7,500 for his end and Willard said he should have a percentage of the gate.

New York, Jan. 1.—Alex Aberg,

Greco-Roman wrestling champion, today had a firmer grip on his title as the result of his decisive victory over the Mysterious Masked Marvel in the international tournament last night. Aberg planned the Marvel to the mat with an inside arm and head chancery after one hour, 31 minutes and 30 seconds of wrestling.

Youthful Financier.

My five-year-old nephew told me one day that he had no place to keep his money, so I bought him a small dime bank, relates a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. He was delighted with it. When I kissed him goodnight he asked me if I would keep it for him. I was somewhat surprised, and asked him why he wanted me to keep it for him, whereupon he said: "Well, auntie, I know you won't take anything out of it and you might put something in it."

JANUARY REALTY

This is the time of the year when bargains in realty are hard to find. Whether you are in the market to buy, sell, rent or exchange, you will be told generally that you had better wait until Spring to effect your transaction.

As a general principal that is true, but if you do your real estate business through The Freeman Want Columns you will find no trouble in getting just what you want, even in January.

Make it a rule to follow all this year of 1916 that you will resort to The Freeman Want Ads whenever you have any of this kind of business to attend to.

ADVERTISERS ESTIMATE THE VALUE BY THE CIRCULATION. And The Freeman has a circulation double that of all other Kingston dailies combined.

NEW COUNTY CLERK
RIGHT ON THE JOB

County Clerk Christopher K. Loughran assumed the duties of his office today and held open house at the county clerk's office, where he received many friends who called to wish him a happy and successful New Year. He and Deputy County Clerk Walter G. Geroldskan familiarized themselves with their new duties and County Clerk Loughran performed his first official act in attending Judge Hasbrouck's special term of the supreme court. Special term was adjourned to chambers, where Judge Hasbrouck heard one case, which was submitted to him by Judge Clearwater and Amos Van Ethen. A number of other cases which had been postponed for today's special term were postponed by attorneys until the next special term, which will be held on Saturday, January 15. Fire Horse is Dead.

This morning "Tony" the handsome gray fire horse used by Chief Chipp in responding to alarms of fire died. The horse was injured in a collision with a trolley car on the corner of Pearl and Fair streets the other day when the chief was on his way to the fire in the Cummings flats on Washington avenue.

Through the Long Days.

Some day, in the years to come, you will be wrestling with the great temptation or trembling under the great sorrow of your life. But the real struggle is here now, in these quiet weeks. Now it is being decided whether, in the day of your supreme sorrow or temptation you shall miserably fail or gloriously conquer. Character cannot be made except by steady, long-continued process. —Phillips Brooks.

Miss Louise Schoonmaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, who is attending school in New York this winter, was the charming hostess at a dinner party given to some of her young friends in the metropolis, at the Ritz-Carlton on Thursday evening. Following the dinner, the party which was chaperoned by Mrs. Schoonmaker, enjoyed a theatre party attending a performance of "Princess Pat." Robert Hasbrouck, who has been enjoying a furlough from West Point Military Academy, was among the guests.

The annual New Year's eve subscription dance, given at St. Mary's Hall was one of the most enjoyable of the season's social functions. Palms decorated the stage and surrounded the musicians of Goisla's orchestra which discoursed delightful music. During the evening a buffet luncheon was served. At midnight, favors were distributed, and these clever and nonsensical noise-making instruments, helped to create a gay and lively atmosphere. The orchestra then played "Auld Lang Syne," which all joined in singing heartily, and at a striking and peculiarly fine closing to the welcome to the New Year. The great orchestra, which played the "Star Spangled Banner," as all stood to honor their country and give proof of their loyal Americanism. The patrons of this delightful dance were Judge and Mrs. Belts, Judge and Mrs. Clearwater, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Corkendall, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Freer, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fowler, Judge and Mrs. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Howard Osterheudt, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Higginson, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Teller, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Van Ethen, Judge and Mrs. John G. Van Ethen, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Winston and Mr. and Mrs. Ogden F. Winne.

Craft-Smith.

Leighton Craft youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craft of Lattinatown, and Miss Carrie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith of Brooklyn were married in that city on Tuesday, Dec. 21. After their honeymoon the young couple will make their home at Lattinatown.

Hornbeck-Kegler.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kegler announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Olga Kegler to Under-Sheriff Scott Hornbeck, this morning at ten o'clock, at the family residence on Pine street. Only the immediate members of the families of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Charles T. Kennedy, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary.

The sixtieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Dayton of Lloyd was celebrated on Christmas eve at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Nathan Townsend, at 601 West 180th street, New York city. Four generations of the Dayton family were represented in a gathering of twenty people, whose meeting served the double purpose of a family reunion and a reception to the guests of honor.

A dinner was served by Mrs. Townsend, who formerly conducted a summer hotel in Lloyd, at half past seven o'clock, before and after which a suitable entertainment was enjoyed. Those who sat down to the dinner were Mrs. William Maiden of New York, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton, and Mr. Maiden; Mrs. Elsie R. Seyer of Boston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton; Mrs. E. Dayton of Yonkers, wife of the late Eldorado Dayton of Marlborough; a son; Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren, including Mr. and Mrs. George Smyser of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Booth of Yonkers, and Ernest R. Dayton of Yonkers, and others.

Lewis H. Dayton, who has reached the eighty-eighth year of his age, is one of the pioneer residents of Lloyd. Born there, he came into possession of a pretty homestead about a mile south of the village of Lloyd in a section which, years before, one of his ancestors, an early settler from England, opened to civilization. Here he and Mrs. Dayton spent the last years of their married life, which culminated in Saturday's happy reunion.

Mr. Dayton is a descendant of one of three brothers who came here from England several years before the Revolutionary War. One settled in Lloyd, a second took possession of a large tract in New Jersey, while the third went to the far west and opened a section of Ohio where his name is perpetuated in one of the biggest cities of the mid-west—Dayton, O.

Other members of the Dayton family who were unable to attend the celebration were Mrs. Emma Brown, her husband, children and grandchildren, all of whom live in Lloyd, and Egbert Dayton and his family, of Springfield, Mass.

Hartsook-Anderson.

Tuesday morning, December 28, at 9:30, Charles Cleveland Hartsook of Gordonsville, Virginia, and Mary Peters Anderson of Lexington, Virginia, were married in the Olive Bridge Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. Richard Braunslein officiating. Mrs. James Fisher of Philadelphia, sister of the bride, acting as matron of honor and Harry Hart of Brown's Station as best man, with Miss Alice Fisher, little niece of the bride as flower girl. The bride wore a handsome suit of white tulle, trimmed with fur, and hat to match and carried a large shower bouquet of white roses. The matron of honor wore a green velvet suit and carried pink roses. The groom and best man wore the conventional black. The church was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being green and white. The couple were married in the presence of a large company of friends and members of the family. Before the wedding party entered the church Mrs. Harry Hart of Brown's Station sang "O Promise Me," then played the wedding march from Lohengrin. When the party left the church they were preceded by the flower girl strewn roses in their path. The bride was a resident of Olive Bridge for eight years, making her home with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson. Her father is associated with the firm of Winston & Co., builders of the Ashokan dam. Mr. Hartsook, who is a civil engineer, was at one time connected with the firm but is now in business in Ohio, which will be their home in the future. Both were identified with the church and social life of the community and have made a great many friends. Miss Anderson was an earnest worker in the church and teacher in the Sunday school, also a member of the choir. She will be missed in all these departments, where she was a great inspiration because of her fine Christian character. Mr. Hartsook will also be missed by his friends here and his integrity of character will not soon be forgotten. This section accompanied by the well wishes and good will of everybody with whom they were associated.

Story of Charles Lamb.

At the dinner table, among a large number of guests, Charles Lamb's white cravat caused a mistake to be made, being taken for a clergyman, and he was called on "to say grace." Looking up and down the table, he asked, in his inimitable limping manner: "Is there no clerk-clergyman present?" "No, sir," answered a guest. "Then," said Lamb, bowing his head, "let us thank God."

Wagner's Letters Lost.

The first tenor who won Wagner's admiration, Tichatschek, left to his daughter when he died a number of letters written to him by the great composer, whose Rienzi he created. On her death, not long ago, the daughter bequeathed these letters to the Wagner museum at Eisenach, but on the way from Brussels the case containing them was opened and the contents were stolen.

Poetic Name for Rainbow.

The ancient Greeks called the rainbow "The Scarf of Iris." Iris, in their mythology, was the attendant of Jupiter, always represented as being exceedingly beautiful.

George W. Young, a well-known retired farmer, died suddenly on Thursday at his home near Gardiner. Death was due to an acute attack of heart trouble. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. He had been in apparently good health but about a week ago he had a slight attack of illness from which he soon recovered. He was born at Boonefield, Iowa, 59 years ago, and spent the greater part of his life in the vicinity of Gardiner.

Mrs. Oliver Scott, aged 70 years, a resident of Milton, died at the home her granddaughter, Mrs. Sylvanus Cassels of Marlborough, on Thursday from a complication of diseases. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Emma Jansen and two granddaughters, Mrs. Percy Bunker of Wiltton and Mrs. Sylvanus Cassels of Marlborough and one grandson, Leonard Jansen of Connecticut. The funeral was held today with interment at Pine Bush on Sunday.

The death of the Rev. Charles W. Alberti, for the past three years pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Highland Falls, occurred in Polytechnic Hospital, New York city, Thursday morning at 12:45 o'clock. Death was caused from pneumonia that set in when Mr. Alberti was convalescing from an operation for appendicitis. Deceased was in his fifty-fifth year and he had lived he would have completed his third year as pastor at Highland Falls on December 31. About one month ago he entered the hospital. Besides his widow the deceased is survived by one son, Harold, his mother, Mrs. William Alberti, two brothers, William and Lyman and one sister, Evelyn. Mr. Alberti was a graduate of the Drew Theological Seminary in the class of 1892 and before going to Highland Falls he served as pastor in churches in Livingston Manor, Equinunk, Pa., Greenfield, Mountaine and Montsomerly. The remains will be taken from New York city to Newburgh and funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from St. John's M. E. Church at 2 o'clock. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Alberti was a brother-in-law of the Rev. Arthur Thompson.</

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

Oh, dear, oh, dear, the New Year's here.

The old one's gone away.

The water wagon's loaded up.

The boys,—oh, will they stay?

The journey's long for those who stick

The road is hard and rough.

But those who cling until the end

Find recompense enough.

The sporting menu for 1916 isn't extremely appetizing when you look at it from this first day of the year, angle, but some surprises may come; some dainty, tasty dishes may be served.

It is hardly likely that there will be any international combats in an athletic way this year. The war has halted them, and it may be two or three years after the war ends before any such classics are staged.

The great English polo team which conquered the American champions has been broken up—forever. The British tennis team has been wrecked by death and injuries. There will not be any yacht races.

The Olympic meet, which was to have been the blue ribbon event in this sportive year, has been postponed indefinitely.

The Baseball Outlook.

Touching on the domestic situation, one thing seems certain. This year ought to be a better one for baseball, both from the magnates and spectators viewpoint, than were those of 1914 and 1915.

The making of the Federal League with those in organized baseball brings under one standard a huge collection of ball players. There will be enough real stars to strengthen all the weak spots in the 1915 makeups of the National and American League Clubs.

Such a condition, naturally, will result in a better brand of major league baseball, and, with the war over, the magnates will reap the harvest that comes from increased attendance.

As to Tennis.

There is a promise of stellar battling for tennis honors in 1916. William Johnson, the new Pacific coast phenomenon, will have a mighty task in defending his title against the onslaughts of R. Morris Williams and Maurice McLaughlin and these others who rank among the greatest tennis stars in the world.

And Miss Molla Bjurstedt, the Norwegian wizard, will find that the re-entry of May Sutton Bundy into the tennis sphere will keep her busy in her efforts to retain the championship she won by her dazlingly brilliant playing last summer.

Pugilistic Outlook.

The fight game promises to furnish the unexpected. Some of the kings may lose their crowns.

The oft-beaten Freddie Welsh may lose his title as lightweight champion. Of course, Freddie will be careful, as usual. He will not engage in decision bouts unless it is absolutely necessary. But it may happen that he'll strike a "Tartar" in a ten round bout—bump against a youngster who will shoot over a punch that will send Freddie down and out for the count. Oh, yes, Freddie is shifty and he's clever and he's a purely defensive fighter—but that isn't permanent insurance against a knockout wallop.

Kid Williams's bantamweight throne is tottering and it may fall before the end of the year. The month of March marks the fourth anniversary of Johnny Kilbane's uplift to the featherweight crest. Johnny isn't as good as he used to be, but Johnny, like Welsh, is careful in picking his opponents and ducks the decision route.

As for Jess Willard—well, he figures on only one or two battles this year and if his foes are no more formidable than Fred Fulton, the chances are he'll be the champ a year hence.

Golf.

The 1916 season in golf promises much in the way of stellar contests. Each year a newer and more wonderful crop of link stars have been harvested and with the old stars competing with the new in the various competitions, both national and state, some wonderful achievements are in prospect.

Runners and Trotters.

There promises to be a big revival of the turf game during the year. In many states where racing was abolished a few years ago, there is a concerted movement on foot to bring about a revival. In those states where racing is permitted the meets promise to be much classier in 1916 owing to the fact that there have been imported many of the greatest ponies that used to run on the European tracks.

The trotting game has been regaining its lost popularity during the past few years and 1916 is freighted with the promise of even greater success in the grand circuit affairs and also on the little tracks than were the 1914 and 1915 seasons.

FRANK CHANCE BACK IN BASEBALL GAME?

Frank Chance.

Frank Chance may be back in baseball, though not in the major leagues, if Barney Oldfield, the automobile race driver, can turn two tricks. One is to induce Chance to change his mind about retirement. The other is to induce the holders of stock in the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league to sell the stock.

Oldfield is after the stock. He has the money to buy it. His home now is in Los Angeles. He is a baseball fan. Chance and he are close friends. But it is still doubtful that the man who won four pennants with the Chicago Cubs could be induced to come back to a sport that brought such bitter disappointment when he tried to make a winner out of the New York Americans.

BOXERS MUST DEFEND TITLE

American Boxing Association Has Started War on Fighters—Ted Lewis Classed as Welter.

The recently born American Boxing association has started real war on title holders who refuse to give the rising generation a whack at the honors. Acting upon resolutions recently adopted, it has sent notification to Willie Ritchie that he must defend his American lightweight championship by fighting for it within a reasonable time. If he refuses, or ignores the edict, the association will pick the best three or four men in the class and stage a series of battles to give the nation a real title holder.

It is the sense of the promoters that Ritchie, Kid Graves, Mike O'Dowd,

Ted Lewis.

Soldier Bartfield, Packey McFarland, Jack Britton and Ted Lewis be classed as welters. In the case of Ritchie, Britton and Lewis, the promoters voted that these men will have to back up any claims they might make as to their still being lightweights by meeting all comers at the accepted weight in that class.

In the middleweight class the promoters selected Young Ahearn, Mike Gibbons, Jeff Smith, George Chip, Jimmy Clabby and Eddie McGoorty.

In the new flyweight division Frankie Izzi, Artie Armstrong and Jimmy Pappas were picked as the three likeliest lads.

Hank Robinson With Feds?

There is a persistent rumor in St. Louis that Hank Robinson has signed to pitch for the Feds next year.

Giving Permanent Help.

Remember that every man at times stumbles and has to be helped up; if he's down you cannot carry him. The only way in which any man can be helped permanently is to help himself. —Theodore Roosevelt.

LITTLE PICK-UPS OF SPORT

Hockey is simply a new name for it. Just as many crooks are nicked as when it was called "shinny on your own side."

Hank Gowdy expects to do the bulk of the backstopping for the Braves next year now that Whaling has been released.

The Kansas City Polo club has been organized, with the idea of popularizing the pony polo sport among citizens in that city.

Lung, a full-blooded Chinaman at inside left on the Columbia university soccer football team, is one of the squad's most expert players.

If there is anything in this "bigger they come, the harder they fall" dope, there'll be an awful crash when Fred Fulton drops. He measures 6 feet 4.

The Courtney rowing No. 2 in the present Cornell first boat is a nephew of Coach Courtney. This year's freshman candidates number 100.

The St. Louis Nationals have signed a one-eyed pitcher as a running mate for Meadows, the four-eyed hurler. That puts the club one eye to the goal.

New York Sun headline: "Yale Eleven Will Be Heavy Loser by Graduation." The day of humor on the Sun evidently did not pass with Dana.

Umpire Quigley worked in 20 foot ball games during the season just closed and has now gone to his home in St. Mary's, Kan., for a rest during the winter months.

Harvard university recently manned 20 eight-oared shells with rowing candidates, while 50 or more oarsmen in single and double shells also practiced on the Charles river.

Cassagnol, the best billiard player in France, and Julius Adorjan, the Hungarian expert, may visit this country and participate in matches before the year is over.

Gilmour Dobie, Washington university coach, whose teams were never beaten in eleven years, claims he never will taste defeat as long as he lives. He has quit coaching.

Coach Al Sharpe of Cornell university has a four-year contract to instruct the Ithaca institution athletes in football, baseball and basketball. He has turned out two champion basketball teams in three years.

Coach Walter Christie, the veteran instructor in track athletics at the University of California, has organized classes for instruction in coaching and students' training, at which there is a large attendance.

Coach Jim Rice of Columbia university oarsmen says the recent triumph of his varsity eight over the Yale crew should do much to counteract the growing feeling that English rowing methods are superior to the American theories of rowing.

'Tis Ever Thus.

After a man has been defeated by a few votes his friends know just where they could have obtained the required number to elect him, had they suspected the race was going to be so close.

New Orleans, Jan. 1.—Before 1,000 fans the Zulu Kid of Brooklyn defeated Jack Doyle of New York in fifteen rounds last night.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The bout between Heavyweight Champion Jess Willard and Fred Fulton, which Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee promoter, has been trying to arrange for the Brewery City on February 22, is off. After a conference in which Andrews, Managers Tom Jones and Mike Collins, and the two fighters, Willard and Fulton, were present, the promoter gave up the effort to make the match and departed for home. Fulton demanded $7,500 for his end and Willard said he should have a percentage of the gate.

New York, Jan. 1.—Alex Aberg,

Greco-Roman wrestling champion, today had a firmer grip on his title as the result of his decisive victory over the Mysterious Masked Marvel in the international tournament last night. Aberg pinned the Marvel to the mat with an inside arm and head chancery after one hour, 31 minutes and 30 seconds of wrestling.

Youthful Financier.
My five-year-old nephew told me one day that he had no place to keep his money, so I bought him a small dime bank, relates a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. He was delighted with it. When I kissed him good-night he asked me if I would keep it for him. I was somewhat surprised, and asked him why he wanted me to keep it for him, whereupon he said: "Well, auntie, I know you won't take anything out of it and you might put something in it."

JANUARY REALTY

This is the time of the year when bargains in realty are hard to find. Whether you are in the market to buy, sell, rent or exchange, you will be told generally that you had better wait until Spring to effect your transaction.

As a general principle that is true, but if you do your real estate business through The Freeman Want Columns you will find no trouble in getting just what you want, even in January.

Make it a rule to follow all this year of 1916 that you will report to The Freeman Want Ads whenever you have any of this kind of business to attend to.

ADVERTISING ESTIMATE THE VALUE BY THE CIRCULATION.
